GERMAN REICHSTAG ACCEPTS DAWES REPARATION PLAN AGREEMENT

Adopts by Vote of 314 to 127, the Necessary Two-Thirds Majority, the Railway Bill to Put Into Effect Provisions of London Pact

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The German reichstag today accepted the Dawes reparation plan agreement concluded at the recent London conference, by adopting by a vote of 314 to 127, the necessary two-thirds majority, the railway bill to put into effect the provision of the London agreement.

The German Nationalists, whose open opposition to the agreement and whose attack on it during the debate yesterday and today had made the results of the voting problematical, voted in favor of the railway bill but they voted against the banking bill, another of the Dawes measures, which, nevertheless, was adopted by a vote of 235 to 172, a two-thirds vote being unnecessary on this bill.

Police Find Bodies of Two Men in Isolated Spot in Outlying Brooklyn

Christian Filipino Kidnaped, Tortured for Several Days and, Then Killed

Believe Men Involved in Bootlegging Scheme and Lured to Spot and Shot

Some of Victim's Bones Taken to Headquarters of Zambales Constabulary

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The bodies of two men riddled with gunshot were found early this morning in an isolated spot in outlying Brooklyn. A few hundred feet away two shotguns which had been recently discharged, were discovered. One of the men was identified by papers found on his body as Carl O. Gullabauro, of Manhattan. There was nothing to identify the other. The police are of the opinion that the men were involved in a bootlegging scheme, and were lured to this spot and shot. A check for $650 lire, drawn on a local Italian bank, was found in Gullabauro's pocket.

MANILA, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—A wandering band of Negroes in the Zambales mountains kidnaped Atanacio Blanco, a Christian Filipino, tortured him for several days and then killed him, eating his heart and liver, says a story printed in El Debate, a Spanish newspaper here.

Blanco, the story says, attempted to sell a pig to the Negroes but, instead of purchasing, they carried him a captive to their village. His torture and death followed.

Some of Blanco's bones are said to have been taken to the headquarters of the constabulary in Zambales province.

Federal and Local Officers Raid Middlesex Street Store

Green River Malt Company Loses $2000 of Goods Used in the Making of Near-Beer —Capping Machines, Bottles and Other Stuff Removed to Police Station — First Seizure of the Kind Made in This City

POLICE LOADING 5-TON TRUCK WITH CONFISCATED ARTICLES

While hundreds of curious spectators looked on, federal and local liquor enforcement officers this morning removed more than $2000 worth of alleged near-beer manufacturing paraphernalia, including bottles, cans, stoppers and capping machines, from the establishment of the Green River Malt company at the corner of Middlesex and Pearl streets.

The haul, the largest, and incidentally the first of its kind in this city, was placed in a 5-ton truck and deposited for safe keeping in the cellar of the Market street police station, three loads being required to complete the wholesale confiscation.

Armed with a federal search warrant issued by a United States commissioner, Federal Agent Walter Bowser, with Capt. George Palmer and Officers William F. Liston and John J. Leahy of the local liquor squad, executed the big raid about 10 o'clock this morning. The event marked the first seizure of this nature, the officers said, under a new federal ruling which calls for the abolition of any and all centers where liquor manufacturing equipment is distributed. Other Lowell establishments will be dealt with similarly, they intimated.

The Green River Malt company, which has been doing business at the Middlesex street stand for a long time, is divided into two compartments, both well stocked with materials of various denominations. Two plate-glass show windows carry displays of the most modern devices for manufacturing and preserving home-made beer, a printed sign in one of the windows conveying the information that a certain quantity of Green River malt extract may be purchased for $1.10, and "enuff" hops to make six or eight gallons of beer for 15 cents, the combination selling for $1.25. Capping machines, stoppers and an inconspicuous collection of other incidentals were on exhibition this morning also.

Every available space in the sales and storage rooms was occupied with empty bottles and cans. Conspicuously posted in the main room was a sign with the words: "Hops and malt for food and medicinal purposes." There were several other signs also explaining the contents of the establishment. The members of the raiding party, divesting themselves of their coats, were kept busy for more than two hours in removing the seized goods.

Two Arrests
Early this afternoon, Charles I.

Bloom of 37 Chalmers street, alleged proprietor of the store, and Edward Blank of 198 Grand street, clerk, were placed under arrest, charged with violating the national prohibition act. They were bailed in $1000 each to appear in district court tomorrow morning.

Raid in Lawrence Store
LAWRENCE, Mass., Aug. 29.—Federal and local authorities raided the local store of the Green River Malt company at 10 o'clock this morning and seized about $3000 worth of materials used in the manufacture of beer and whiskey. Raids were conducted simultaneously in stores conducted by the company in eleven other cities, federal authorities said. A quantity of "whiskey" labels were also seized.

Two arrests were made. Benny Cohen, the manager, and Henry Polvin, a clerk, both of Revere, were charged with violating the national prohibition act.

SEN. WHEELER RENEWS WAR ON THE "DAUGHERTY GANG"

La Follette's Running Mate Issues Formal Statement, Containing Affidavit Made by Remus, Ex-Bootleg King Repudiating Testimony

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Senator Wheeler of Montana, prosecutor of the Daugherty committee and La Follette candidate for vice president, today publicly renewed his war on the "Daugherty gang" in public office.

In a formal statement, Mr. Wheeler dealt at length with an affidavit said to have been made in Atlanta penitentiary by George Remus, once the Ohio bootleg king, repudiating the sensational testimony he gave last spring before the Daugherty committee.

"Testimony before the investigation," the senator's statement continued, "disclosed that the present warden of Atlanta penitentiary is a close friend and political associate of Harry M. Daugherty."

The incident makes it clear that President Coolidge still has some housecleaning to do, because some remnants of the Daugherty gang are still in office under the federal government.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Ultimatum of Judge Enright is Upheld By Associate Justice Fisher

Alleged Drunken Driver Gets Direct Sentence and is Fined $100

MORRIS, presiding at this morning's session of the district court in the absence of Judge Enright, upheld the latter's ultimatum in dealing with an alleged "drunken driver" case by fining Ernest J. Morin $100 and sentencing him to 15 days in the house of correction for operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor. A drunkenness charge was placed on file. The sentence was appealed and defendant was ordered to recognize in $300 for his appearance in superior court.

James Kennedy was found guilty of drunkenness and was sentenced to 20 days in the house of correction.

Calista Puscont, charged with illegal keeping, was continued to Sept. 18.

Ellen Kucarska, interfering with an officer during a liquor raid in Front street about a week ago, was continued to Sept. 5.

Senator Wheeler and other members of the Daugherty committee, the Remus affidavit directly repudiated Remus testimony that he had paid about $250,000 to the late Jess Smith, Mr. Daugherty's companion for protection from prosecution. On the contrary, Remus said in the affidavit he never met Jess Smith or communicated with him directly or indirectly. Testimony to the contrary, it is added, was given before the committee in the belief that it would aid him to secure his release from prison.

Senator Wheeler's statement described in some detail the circumstances under which Remus' original testimony was adduced.

The Boxer was said to be ready to make a dash through the ice when conditions permit to rescue the crew of the Lady Kindersley.

"NICKLE PLATE" MERGER

Official Statement Giving All Details of Major Consolidation to Be Issued

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—An official statement giving all the terms and details of the proposed merger of the Nickel Plate system with four other railroads into one large system is expected to be issued today on behalf of O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen of Cleveland, who engineered the merger. It will be the second major consolidation under the transportation act of 1920. The issuance of this statement, it was pointed out, was made possible by the action taken by directors of the Pere Marquette railway in approving the terms of the merger at a special meeting yesterday.

The Pere Marquette is the last of the five railroads included in the combination to take official action on the proposed consolidation. In addition to the Nickel Plate, the consolidated system will include the Erie railroad, the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Rocking Valley and the Pere Marquette.

FLIGHT AGAIN DELAYED

Continuing Stormy Weather Has Caused Further Postponement of Hop Off

U. S. S. RICHMOND AT ICE TICKLE, Labrador, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Continuing stormy weather has caused further postponement of the American army world aviators' flight here from Iqaluit, Greenland. It is now announced that no attempt will be made to get away before tomorrow morning.

The route of the flight stretches for 525 miles across the arm of the Atlantic which sweeps north-northwest into Davis Strait and serves as a highway for icebergs floating down the Labrador current into the broad ocean.

The warm air from the south, meeting the ice, cause dense fogs almost constantly, making an aerial crossing perilous except under unusually favorable conditions. Marine reports place the fog occurrence as high as sixty per cent.

Unusual precautions have been taken by the conveying naval squadron to safeguard the birdmen on this final and dangerous leg of their homeward trans-Atlantic swing. No less than six ships will be stationed along the route in constant communication and with an elaborate system of signalling to the aviators as they pass.

Weather reports from each vessel will be transmitted by wireless to the U.S.S. Milwaukee at Iqaluit for the information of Lieutenant Lowell Smith and his comrades before they take to the air.

As the planes proceed each vessel will inform the aviators by signals of the weather prospects ahead.

The longest gap between the ships will be 110 miles. The Milwaukee will be at Iqaluit and then, in order, to the west the destroyers Coglian, McFarland, Charles Ausburn and Lawrence, with the cruiser Richmond 25 miles from the Labrador coast.

A message received by Rear-Admiral Magruder from Lieutenant Smith said last night said the new engines had been installed in the planes and tested and that the fliers were waiting only favorable weather to begin their hop to Labrador.

Fair weather is predicted on the Labrador coast for today, but the storm passing east will probably bring rain and wind at Iqaluit. Indications are that the weather will clear up tomorrow on the Greenland side of the water.

"HOME RUN" BAKER PREVENTS LYNCHING

EASTON, Md., Aug. 29.—"Home Run" Baker, former Philadelphia and New York baseball star, early yesterday arrested a negro charged with attacking Baker's sister-in-law, and then saved the negro from a mob that wanted to lynch him.

The negro, Harold Gibson, hired man on the farm of Patrick Baker, a brother of "Home Run," was pointed out to the former star king at a carnival in Trappe, a few miles from here. Searchers had been looking for him for several hours. "Home Run" grabbed Gibson and said: "Come on with me."

"Lynch him!" shouted the crowd. "Let him alone," cried Baker. And he took Gibson to the Easton jail.

The attack occurred on the Baker farm, an isolated place about five miles south of Trappe. Patrick Baker and his daughter, Dorothy, were away at the time. Several hours later the husband returned to find his wife bruised and unconscious.

RECOVER CHECKS FOR $112,000

Quick Recovery Follows Holdup of Bank Messengers at Newark, N. J.

Four Youthful Bandits Stopped Messengers, Took Bag and Flew

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 29.—Checks totalling $112,000 which shortly after 9 a. m. today were seized from two messengers of the Northward National bank by four armed bandits, were recovered within half an hour after the hold-up by Kearney police.

The bag in which George Morgan, 25, and Harry Spooner, 18, the bank messengers, were taking the checks to the Newark clearing house was found in a Kearney street house and taken to police headquarters.

Despite the presence of early morning crowds and of several police on nearby corners, the four bandits, who police believe were little more than youths, stopped the messengers at the point of guns, seized the bag containing the checks and sped away, toward Kearney, in a waiting automobile bearing a New York license.

JEAN FINALLY JOINS "BOBS"

LEAGUE OF NATIONS OLD STORY TO INDIANS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press) The Iroquois Indians beat the League of Nations to it by four centuries. That is what J. N. B. Hewitt of the Bureau of American Ethnology of the Smithsonian Institution has discovered through research of the "League of the Five Nations," which held sway in the New York country when America was young. He has just returned to Washington from further investigation of the organization, of which a remnant exists today in the province of Ontario and the state of New York. As the Indians of old left no written records, Mr. Hewitt had to depend on tradition, as embodied in ritual, for his main source of information. So far as the present is concerned, 6000 Indians at Brantford, in Ontario, keep alive the league, under management with the Canadian government, and three small reservations in New York state more or less closely follow the old league regulations. These are the Onondaga reservation near Syracuse, with 555 Indians; the Tonawanda reservation, near Akron, with 538 Indians; and the Tuscarora reservation, near Lewiston, with 376 Indians. The preservation of peace was the objective of the League of the Five Nations. Women occupied a pre-eminent place in its structure, and naturalization, the referendum, initiative and recall had a place in its make-up.

The Mohawk, the Onondaga, the Oneida, Cayuga, and the Seneca, tribes of Iroquois blood, established the league, with a mature constitution, and planned to bring into the federation, in time, all known tribes of men as allies.

Deganawida, the prophet statesman of the Iroquois, was its leading spirit. Illawatha (not the personage of that name immortalized by the poet Longfellow), Akotapho, a wizard who at first bitterly opposed the plan, and Dikonganssen, a noted chief, later urged the peaceful revolution. This was the more remarkable, Mr. Hewitt points out, in an age when fighting was fashionable.

The League of the Five Nations came historically into being between 1550 and 1570. It aimed at stamping out the blood feud system, which was killing off the bravest Indians of the nation, and establishing what was called the "Great Peace." So powerful had the league become by 1701, that it was able to turn over to the king of England in trust a territory 800 miles long and 400 miles wide. Before asking others to disarm, the league disarmed itself. It was badly jarred by the war of the revolution, Mr. Hewitt finds, but it has survived in a measure until today.

The Indian league had its "World Court" idea, too, for Mr. Hewitt points out that "the federal council, sitting as a court without a jury, heard and determined cases in accordance with established rules and principles of procedure, and with precedent."

OIL MEN TO MEET IN OKLAHOMA

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Leading oil operators of Germany, France, Russia, Mexico, Venezuela, Chile, Uruguay and England will participate in the second annual International Petroleum Exposition, to be held here commencing Oct. 2.

Exposition grounds are already covered with structures resembling a miniature city. There will be 16 exhibition buildings. "Queen Petrolia" will be chosen at the exposition from among the winners of the various oil state beauty contests.

All the latest type implements of the industry will be shown, including American and foreign made machinery and tools. Experts will demonstrate the development of oil from the crude state to the finished products, employing a miniature refinery and model field with drills and pumps, actually working.

PIMPLES ITCHED DAY AND NIGHT

On Face and Arms. Large and Red. Cuticura Heals.

"I was troubled with pimples that broke out on my face and arms. They were large and red and itched badly both day and night, especially when I got warm. My clothing irritated the breaking out on my arms and caused the pimples to bleed. The trouble lasted about four months."

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and got relief right away. I continued the treatment and after using two cakes of Soap and one and a half boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) W. Stedman, 300 Monroe St., Hoboken, N. J., Feb. 9, 1924.

FUR HUNTERS PUSH FURTHER NORTH

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Aug. 28. (A. P.)—The hunt for fur is extending northward year by year, according to officials of the great fur companies operating from this city to the Labrador coast and into Hudson's bay. Each season, they say, new posts are opened to widen the field of the peli hunter northerly into the Arctic.

The Hudson Bay company and Revillon Freres, the "old" company and the "new" already have despatched their steamers on their annual tour of the northern posts.

All the way up the coast of Labrador and into Hudson Bay are scattered fur posts which in many cases have been carrying on business with the natives for years. Gradually, however, the operations have been extended northward, the Hudson Bay company especially seeking out new fur fields. This company now has a numerous chain of posts in Baffinland and other areas north of Hudson Strait.

In recent years the trading operations of both companies have been very successful and the fur trade has been largely extended northward. Two years ago the Hudson Bay company undertook to establish a herd of reindeer in Baffinland with a view to augmenting the meat supply of the region. The company was encouraged in its experiment by the success of a similar project in Alaska. Instead of meeting with the success achieved with the reindeer in Alaska, the Hudson Bay company met with partial failure, and the herd now is small.

FIRST CHINESE BABY BORN IN SAN FRANCISCO

WINNEMUCA, Nev., Aug. 29 (A. P.)—Cung Chung, 70 years old, having amassed a small fortune from a career of selling and curing of himself, has sold out and is going to Shanghai to open a packing plant. He has arranged with exporters to have eggs shipped from the United States.

Chung says he was the first Chinese baby born in the city of San Francisco.

VALUABLE ROMAN ARMOR UNCOVERED

KARAGATCH, Bulgaria. (By the Associated Press)—A peasant plowing near this village turned up one of the most interesting archaeological finds made in recent years. When the plow struck an obstruction the peasant found it was a slab of marble. Lifting this a marble tomb was disclosed and within lay a suit of bronze armor of a Roman knight, together with shield, sword, spear and several utensils, including an exquisite vase.

Director Velkov, of the National Museum, and Mr. Popoff, an expert on Greek antiquities, estimate that the find dates back to the pre-Alexandrine period. They surmise that he may have been a dweller of a Hellenic colony on the Black Sea coast.

On the helmet, well preserved and of a high order of workmanship, were the figures of Apollo, Pallas Athena, Poseidon, Minerva and Mars. One earpiece found bore the figure of Zeus with the trident. The other earpiece was lacking.

The helmet was silvered, and some of the white metal still adhered. The human figure that once bore the helmet and carried the weapons was entirely absent, except in the form of ashes in small amount.

"The knight who bore the armor was evidently a high personage," said Director Velkov. "Therefore, after his body had been deposited in the grave it was burned, an early instance of cremation."

REMOVE DUST FIRST

Before washing any sort of bric-a-brac that has crevices that catch dust, remove as much dust as possible before putting it into the water.

UNGREASED PAPER

It is better not to grease the paper in which you bake a sponge cake, but to line it with ungreased paper.

WATER-ICES

Water ices should be frozen like loose cream, except that the crank need not be turned constantly. A few turns every five minutes is enough.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Creates Gas, Sourness and Pain. How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quart glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. —Adv.

Woman's Greatest Asset

Health is woman's greatest asset. Upon it depends charm, beauty, power to attract others, happiness and success, and it is what really makes life worth living. Thousands of women suffer from headaches, backache, nervousness, mental depression and mysterious pains, who could find immediate relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which is made from roots and herbs. For nearly half a century this medicine has been recognized as the standard remedy for women's ills.—Adv.

CATCHER EARL SMITH EX-SEN. HOKE SMITH AND OF PIRATES INJURED BRIDE IN BOSTON

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—Earl Smith, catcher who joined the Pittsburgh Nationals just in time to play a heavy part in the recent Pirate drive towards the top of the league, probably will be lost to the team for the remainder of the season. An x-ray photograph, last night, showed that he had a dislocated finger, caused when a foul tip struck his right hand in the game with Philadelphia Wednesday. Smith, one of the best hitters of the team was being counted upon by Manager McKechnie to play a big part in the Pirates final drive for the pennant.

Bengaline is one of the fashionable silk fabrics for fall that is much more attractive in black than in colors.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Ex-Senator Hoke Smith of Atlanta, Ga., and his second bride, who were married Wednesday night at New Rochelle, N. Y., arrived in Boston yesterday morning by boat from New York, and are guests at the Hotel Touraine. This is Mrs. Smith's first visit to Boston, and much of their time while here will be spent in sight-seeing and observing points of historical and civic interest.

Senator Smith is a descendant of the Rev. Sir Henry Smith, who was spiritual adviser of Gov. Winthrop, and a number of his ancestors are buried in Salem, which place he hopes to visit today. His father, Prof. N. C. Smith, was a native of New Hampshire, and an honor graduate of Bowdoin college. His first wife, who was Miss Bridle Cobb, daughter of Gen. T. R. Cobb of the confederate army, died five years ago.

His bride, who was Miss Made Crawford, has been associated with him for a number of years as secretary in his law offices. She is a native of Tennessee, the daughter of Mrs. W. D. Wilson, who also attended the wedding, and whose husband is a cotton merchant and prominent citizen of Cordale, Ga. Mrs. Smith's father died when she was quite young. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will leave for Canada tonight, spending a few days in Montreal and Quebec. They will live for the present in Washington, where the ex-senator has law offices as well as in Atlanta, which is his native city and legal residence.

DAVIS COMPLETES HIS OLDEST CITY IN U. S. LABOR DAY SPEECH

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—With his speech, Wm. W. Davis, labor day speaker, practically completed, John W. Davis, the democratic presidential candidate, turned his attention today to matters of campaign organization and finance before the start of his western trip Sunday. ### Piles Can't Be Cured From the Outside. External treatments seldom cure Piles. Nor do surgical operations. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead. To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation of the rectum by a harmless, safe method. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it. Dr. G. Leonard, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless, reliable, easy to take, and can always be found at Green's Drug Store, which will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer. Adv.

Many women and children were listed among the invited guests. The feast prepared for the firemen's friends included spare-ribs nicely cooked, sandwiches, corn on cob, cucumbers, potatoes, cabbage and tomatoes ripe. Hot coffee went with the repast and Dracut all-fresh milk and cream. The banquet tables were made attractive by the placing of large bouquets of gladioli, golden glows, and asters on the white cloths. The flowers were donated by Mr. James J. McManmon. The members of the entertainment committee, hustlers every one, were Capt. Charles Wallwork, Birge Caverly, A. Leblanc, Cornelius O'Leary, Frank Farrell and Walter Sweeney. The corps of chefs and waiters included William McManmon, Roy Vinal, William Jubenville, Arthur Pilote, Edward Rawlston, J. L. McTherson, Napoleon Brien and Steve Delaney.

Before introducing leading citizens listed to say a few remarks, Mr. McManmon went into the history of the Kenwood Hose company briefly, and asked that the splendid co-operation always given to the organization by the people of that district of aid Oracut in the past, be continued in the future.

Among the other speakers were Hon. Arthur W. Coburn, Edward Denneit, Town Treasurer Sam G. Pillsbury, William Martin, Charles Snowman and Nelson E. Huntley.

Clams Not Taxidermists Used to Stuff Lowell's Elks at the Martin Luther Grounds

THE BIG CLAMBAKE STEAMING UP PREPARATORY TO FEEDING THE ANTLERED HERD FROM LOWELL, A FEW HUNGRY ELKS IN THE FOREGROUND.

Back in the days of wampum and flint, when Wampanoag, the big Indian chief, held full sway of the Merrimack valley, there was a wooded heavily spot in Tyngsboro where one could almost at any time find elks or Indians roaming around, enjoying nature's gifts and living on the fat of the land. Fruits and vegetables, roots and herbs within easy access in those days and the finest of fish in the historic river that lends so much to the enchantment of that spot.

Long ago most of the elks that were around in those days were either shot or just died and many were taken away somewhere or other to institutions and the like, and stuffed.

Well, reverse English was applied to that scheme of things yesterday and the woods around what is known as Martin Luther's in Tyngsboro was thick with Elks and Indians, most of them members of Lowell lodge, No. 87, B.P.O.E. and a few of them guests. All Elks and paraded as it may seem most of them Indians and wilder than Wampanoag ever thought his successors would be. Unlike the elks of long ago, the Elks went there yesterday to get stuffed and stuffed they were. Unlike their four-legged brethren of former years none of them got shot, not even near shot. The cream cones and sarsaparilla never had the same effect as bow and arrow.

There were fruits and vegetables from the countryside. Just as there was centuries ago, but as to fish from the river, well, the old Merrimack ain't what she used to be. So instead there were steamed clams, live broiled lobsters and everything that goes to make an A-1 clam bake. Plenty to eat, and what a job that hungry herd did with the victuals!

Unlike some of the elks, four legged, that are stuffed with hair and such down at the Elks home in Warren street, the Elks, bled, were stuffed with lobster, green corn, clams, ice cream and the like. The two-legged brothers sure went through that feed a lot faster than any of their four-legged friends ever went through the woods. After the feed some went home but most of them lollied around, watched sports or talked in little groups or played pinocle or did something to while away the fleeting hours. The time passed so fast for some of the Elks that they didn't leave in time to be at Warren street for the toast at 11 o'clock.

With all this talk about elks and Elks, the real latter-days being distinguished by the capital B, it would seem the whole story ought to be written in capitals for, after all, it's about Elks and they had a capital time, legs or no legs, and that's no lie. From the dovelity that abounded around Martin Luther's yesterday, some of those good brothers ought to take the horns out of their coat lapels and wear them where nature meant them to be, even if it does hurt Eddie Rogers' business.

When the Fun Started

The fun started just at noon time, when the auto parade from the Warren street clubhouse arrived at the grounds, passing through the line of ticket takers headed by Fred Hammond and Chief Saunders. A buffet lunch was waiting at the pavilion and the first Elk stampede of the day started immediately. It was outclassed only by the main mill which marked the putting on of the big dinner late in the afternoon. To see those hungry Elks go for the rations you could easily understand why these annual outings are always staged—the think too much of their women folk to have them run the risk of being used for paying blanks in a pin-a-grove.

The usual card of field events for handsome prizes kept everybody in the open for the first part of the day, the sack race, the hop, skip and jump and the fat men's race giving the boys plenty of fun and the pipe race, the 100-yards open and "me and you" race providing some real keen competition. Deak Dodge held the start-ers pistol and sent the competitors off in every event. Deak fired more rounds than it took Grant to capture Richmond but something, even if it wasn't a footrace, moved every time so the sports-followers got plenty of action, even if it was dancing. Ask Bill Craig for details.

Sheriff Harry Walker from Cambridge, deputy down there and claimant to the title of biggest Elk in Middlesex county, was among those present. He was beaten for height at the outset, but won all laurels for avoidupole and gonality. Jack Healey and Sam Turgen were there early, golf knickers 'n everything. Deak and Sam Scott with their inevitable pipes. The two dapper Dons, Martin and Moriarty, were walking around with John Moynahan. Inspector of public buildings. John says he's only been on his new job a few months but he saw more hay windows yesterday than in all his time put together and he is going to have the building laws changed and permit less to the acre. Mayor Donovan and City Solicitor Reynolds were right at hand. Bro. Moynahan thought they were too busy having a good time to discuss it yesterday.

The three assessors, John Dwyer, Jim Donnelly and Pete Achin, were present strong. Jim, of course, is exalted ruler and went big as always. John Dwyer, ever conscientious, studied valuations all morning while the third brother took a census of the lobsters before the feed.

Secretary John Lee was around without his usual busy look. This thing and let John off nicely. All enjoyment instead of work for John for a change.

Many Visitors Present

County Commissioner Erson D. Barlow and Charlie Sawyer from Centralville, member of the house of representatives, were both present, proud of the new courthouse for Lowell that they helped to get. There were two carloads of Newburyport Elks present. A carload came from Lawrence and Haverhill and the usual contingent of a score or more from Nashua. Michael H. McCarron of Woburn, district deputy grand exalted ruler, bosom friend of Jimmie Donnelly and admired by every member of Lowell lodge, arrived late in the day. Mike wouldn't make a speech but he would smoke a cigar and cut the ice cream cone or two and spent the latter part of the day renewing the many golden friendships he has in the Spindle City among its antlered herd.

Deputy Downey was out for a brief time in the morning, as was Sergt. Hugh McGuire. They had a bottle or two of pop, parties of the buffet lunch and joined in the general good time for an hour or more before starting homeward with reluctance.

Jack Campbell was kept busy with the dough-bag. If anybody thinks being committee treasurer at an Elks' outing is sincere they should see Jack before applying for the job. Bill Mahan, chairman of the committee, spent the morning at many duties and the afternoon at more. He was as busy in the proverbial one-armed paper hanger. Tom Atkinson helped.

James A. Parsons of Quincy lodge, secretary to Louis A. Coolidge, was in good company with Jack Healey and a bunch more that he went big with at the Boston and Pittsfield convention of a short time ago. Cap Mahoney of the fire department with a delegation, including Jimmie MacReady who is going to the Legion convention at St. Paul next month if Bill Bruce doesn't see him first and even up for the lobster he stole.

Barny Gilmore came over the river from Silesia and John Salzman forgot all about fire, water and imperfect paying for the whole day. John Hoban and Reggie McGuire went big together as usual.

Jim Thompson, who presides over the soda dispensing, was present in all the glory of the day. Jim was cool and competent as ever despite the rush and although he wore out two bottle openers on the grape, sars and root beer, saw everybody, was served, Barney Callahan went through as many motions as Jim did, but the boys all claim he didn't get as much done. Eddie Cushing kept the tally and will settle the tie by bringing his pencil out to the next outing.

Mayor Curley of Boston—James Michael the Magnificent—graced the occasion with his presence and was given a genuine ovation. Jim made a speech in which he said he'll come out of Boston leading for governor by 125,000 votes and if Lowell comes through well with him.

Henry P. Sullivan, conqueror of the English channel and honorary life member of Lowell lodge was one of the main figures at the outing, receiving congratulations at every hand for his great swim in Long Island Sound when he set a new 10-mile mark a week or so ago.

The married men beat the single men in the ball game, the score being somewhere near 5 to 2. Whiney Boyle, handled by Jack Leach, showed his stuff, boxing Tip Quinn, Tom Leonard and another youngster each three rounds and finishing as fresh as a new laid egg. That's a hard-boiled fact.

Mayor Curley Introduced

Mayor Curley of Boston was introduced by Exalted Ruler Donnelly and in response to cries for a speech mounted a table in the center of the baseball field. As the six hundred or so of Elks present crowded about the mayor of the Hub spoke strongly for John W. Davis for president and drew a vivid man-to-man comparison of the democratic standard bearer and the present president, "the idol of New England."

The distinguished visitor prepared to step down from the table without much as mentioning his own candidacy, but answered to calls of "Now talk for yourself, Jim."

"I've been coming to Lowell for 25 years now," said the Boston mayor, talking for the candidacy of somebody else for something. This time I'm going to talk of my own candidacy reminding you that despite the great republican machine against me and despite the almost continuous opposition of a united press in Boston, I've left my case in the hands of the people and 34 times out of 35 the verdicts of the voters have been for James M. Curley.

"Boys, I don't care if Jackson or Fuller gets the republican nomination. I'll lead either one of those whispering Willies out of Boston with a clear 125,000. Give me half a chance in Lowell and I'll be your next governor."

Citing the fact that under republican rule Massachusetts is slipping in industry and commerce the Boston mayor pledged himself to bolster up indifference, to restore life and to promote industrial welfare.

He took occasion to comment on the attitude of the board of public utilities on gas price raises and telephone tariff increases, saying "I'll clean out the board of public utilities within 24 hours after I go into office." This statement met with prolonged applause.

Charging that insane asylums are crowded to the doors with patients compelled to sleep in corridors, the Boston mayor attacked the commission for the blind for closing the workshops of blind folks and making them paupers, saying "I'll fire that commission the minute that I'm sworn into office."

"I want to go out of Lowell with the highest vote a democrat ever received here" was his closing appeal.

"If you give it to me between Lowell and Boston I'm sure to go in and I'll serve as your governor with the same fidelity, zeal and intelligence that has marked my stewardship as mayor of the city of Boston. The opening of the Curley speech follows:

"In considering the national election it is becoming increasingly apparent each day that the loss sustained by the republican party in the death of United States Senator LeBaron B. Colt, of Rhode Island, may prove a most important factor in the determination of a choice by the American electorate.

"The state of Rhode Island will unquestionably return a democratic United States senator to fill the position formerly held by Judge Colt. In that event a coalition of democrats and such republicans as Shipland and Magnus Johnson, will be in a position to determine who shall fill the position of president in the event of the failure of the candidate of either party receiving a majority of the votes of the electoral college.

Party's Sole Asset

"The sole asset of the republican party in the present election is the character of its candidate for the office of president. Apparently it is the purpose of the republican leaders to ignore and fail to defend a record of waste, corruption and criminality unequalled in any four-year term in the history of our government.

"The public, however, in each state where an election has been held, have considered the laches of the republican party and have answered by electing democrats; and in all probability a similar course will be pursued in the coming election. The remembrance of corruption in Teapot Dome; the wilful disclosure of the graft in the veterans' bureau; the collusion between cabinet officers and bootleggers; the brutal treatment of the veterans of the Grand Army and their dependents; the veto of the Bureau bill; the callous disregard for the welfare of postal employees and their families; in the matter of wage increases; accounts in no small measure for the abandonment of the republican party by the republican senator, La Follette, and his associates.

"In view of the political change which has resulted in states which gave a republican majority in 1920, it is interesting to learn the probable attitude of the business men of America in the coming election.

"Oklahoma in 1922 elected a democratic governor; Montana in the same year elected a democratic senator; Wyoming elected a democratic governor in 1922; in addition to electing Senator Kendrick, who defeated Frank

PAGEANT HUGE SUCCESS

Playground Children Present Annual Offering at the Memorial Auditorium

Memorial Auditorium yesterday afternoon and evening was the scene of the annual pageant by playground children, and over 4000 adults and children attended the performances and were well entertained. The pageant yesterday was entitled, "A Trip to the Isle of Dolls."

Horlick's Malted Milk Safe Milk For Infants, Invalids, Children, The Aged. Dissolve—No Cooking. A Light Lunch. Avoid Imitations—Substitutes.

children primarily and about 2000 were present when the curtain opened at 2 o'clock. The evening performance was open to adults and children accompanied by a similar number was in attendance then.

Harvey B. Greene, member of the park commission, welcomed the audience at the evening performance and briefly told of the work of the playground supervisors in teaching the children during the summer months, healthy games and the American ideal of sportsmanship. He then introduced the mayor, who extended to the park department and the playground supervisors his compliments for their work in caring for the children during the summer months.

On the stage, a toy shop window occupied the entire background and in this window were represented by playground children, several types of dolls. To this window comes a little girl, played by Sadie Gorolink, who gazes upon the dolls with interest and then falls asleep. To her side dances a fairy queen, Helen Dudley, who touches her with a magic wand and bids her enter into doll land. Then the fairy brings onto the stage various types of dolls who entertain the visitor with dances.

Dolls of all types are represented by children of the various playgrounds, dressed in fitting costumes, and each group entertained with fitting dances.

It would be impossible to choose any one of the numbers as outstanding, every one was good and the work of the children reflected great credit upon the supervisors who had charge of rehearsals.

There were harlequin dolls, nurse dolls, rag dolls, negro dolls, Indian dolls, sailor dolls and every other kind of a doll that one could think of, dancing before the large audience. The comedy dolls, such as the harlequin, negro and rag dolls, were so amusing that laughter was their applause from the time they started until they danced off the stage.

The costumes were exceptionally good. There were no programs issued and they were not necessary, as the costumes plainly showed what the number represented.

The pageant was given under the general direction of Superintendent John W. Kernan of the park department, Arthur C. Sullivan, head supervisor of playgrounds and Miss Mary A. Dowd, director assisting in the work were supervisors from each of the playgrounds.

The costumes were designed by playground supervisors and were made by playground sewing classes under the direction of the school department sewing teachers who had charge of the classes.

The cast follows: Harlequins—Coached by Miss Martha Gallagher, Greenhalse school: Boys: Leone Dube, Helen Garvey, Helen Giblin, Annette Mansess, Christina Duffy. Girls: Jeanne, Jeanette, Helen Fennel, Anna Fitzpatrick, Juliet Lussier, Hilda Larkin. Sunbonnet dolls—Coached by Miss Helen Blum, Varnum school: Marion Candali, Elizabeth Sheen, Doris Dord, Anna Wrenn, Elizabeth Rorden, Stella Urbanic, Rita McGowan, Virginia Struth. French dolls—Coached by Miss Sadie Melson, Aiken playground: Leda Hubert, Lillian Broutelle, Anita Robert, Robertine Chouinard, Diana Hubert, Armande Baillargeon, Violet Perigny, Cecile Bourque. Specialty dance—(a) Fox trot; (b) Continued to Page Ten.

SECOND COMPLAINT AGAINST MANOUSOS

A second complaint growing out of the alleged Dracut hold-up and robbery of last Tuesday night, has been preferred against James Manousos, one of the suspects. He gave himself up last night on a warrant charging him with threatening Louis Bazis, and was released in $500 bonds until Sept. 4. Bazis was one of the occupants of the machine which was stopped by masked men near Lakeview.

Yesterday, Manousos was in district court and pleaded not guilty to two counts of robbery. He was released in $2000 bail until Sept. 4.

Y. W. C. A. CAMP WILL CLOSE TUESDAY

After a most successful and enjoyable season, during which time the camp was filled to capacity with girls, the Y. W. C. A. camp at Long-Sought-for Pond will close on Tuesday next, a special program being carried off at the closing exercises.

Miss Mildred Martin, director of the camp, assisted by Miss Dorothy Flemming, swimming instructor, and Mr. and Mrs. Kilder, caretaker and cook respectively, have given the girls their personal attention during the season and it is with reluctance that the campers are now preparing to leave.

A varied and interesting program, including educational and recreational studies was offered the girls and points awarded for those receiving a passing mark. Among the classes taught at the camp was a class in wax work and the girls have accomplished a great deal along this line. The camp this year consists of two main houses and several portables, all of which were filled to capacity at all times. Week-end parties, however, will be conducted until the cooler weather, and those who wish to attend are at liberty to do so.

Among the many camp requisites for which points were awarded are: Camp spirit in general; cleanliness, both self and camp; handicrafts including studies, both educational and religious and first aid. The girls are also urged to qualify in hiking, swimming and rowing, and for excellence in these arts they are awarded points.

On Sunday mornings, religious services are held followed by the awarding of points for the week. Impromptu programs are also carried off in the evenings at which time musical, dance and gymnastic numbers are given by the girls.

The program this year was most beneficial to all and the girls proved very genial and helpful at all times being ready to assist one another and to make camp life as pleasant as possible. The motto lived up to this season was: "Study to show thyself approved unto God." A workman that needeth not to be ashamed. A large number of visitors is expected.

PORTLAND LADY GIVES ADDITIONAL TESTIMONY

Mrs. McCormick Tells How Tanlac Corrected Troubles and Restored Health

"What Tanlac does it certainly does well, for it restored my health a year ago and I am still feeling fine," this is what Mrs. Mabel McCormick, 88 Paris street, Portland, Maine, devoted mother of seven lovely children, has to say for the famous treatment.

"Four years of stomach trouble had brought me down to where I barely had strength to do my housework and pooped over the week-end and the girls are preparing a special entertainment program which will without a doubt greatly please their visitors.

The speed of a carrier pigeon in calm weather is 1700 yards a minute care for my children. The gas on my stomach made my heart skip and palpitate until it would frighten me, and my nerves were completely undone. "Life was more or less a burden to me then, but since taking Tanlac it's a genuine pleasure. Tanlac just seemed to soothe and settle my stomach from the very first, and three bottles made me so healthy and happy that I go about my duties every day singing. Tanlac was a blessing to me that I can never forget."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

DAWES TALKS "OLD TIMES"
CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—General Charles G. Dawes, en route to Lincoln to speak tonight, during a brief stop here today, chatted with newspapermen about "old times" in Nebraska, posed for photographs, but declined to discuss politics.

SWEPT TO SEA, LUCK
SAVED TWO BOYS

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—By one of those caprices of fate which come once in a thousand years, Spellman Nawn and Lewis James, Cohasset youngsters who were swept to sea in a disabled sailing skiff Wednesday morning, drifted under the lee of the Boston Lightship—and were saved.

And the big thing about it all to them was this: that they no sooner were hauled aboard, after hours of desperate labor to keep their light craft afloat on the wild seas, than they were each served a big wedge of blueberry pie.

Pie Makes Big Hit
"Blueberry pie, away out there!" the Nawn boy exclaimed when he got home. "I never was so surprised in my life."

Ashore, the amazement at the rescue of the youngsters had not died down last night. News that they were safe came yesterday forenoon, and a life saving boat brought them in from the big lightship.

They had drifted 10 miles, after their sail went by the board in a squall, which laid the light skiff over flat on its side. There were no oars, and they took turns paddling, hopelessly and uselessly, with a board they found in the bottom of their cockle-shell.

Lewis baled with his straw hat until it fell apart. Then he tried to make a bag of his shirt, and used that.

"We took turns," Spellman said. He is 13 years old, and has a shock of sandy hair and a scattering of freckles. "I was pretty tired. We couldn't steer much with that rudder, 'cause we didn't have any sail and couldn't hold a shirt—the halyards were snarled in the pulleys."

"We left Cohasset cove about 10 o'clock in the morning. Off Kimball's beach the wind gusts up and flopped us on our side, and the sail went. We drifted from there. It was 1 o'clock in the afternoon when we looked up and found ourselves drifting under the lee of the lightship."

"We were kind of dizzy by that time, and were lying down, one in the bow and one in the stern. Gosh, I was hungry!"

"We holed like everything, and pretty soon one of the men on the lightship stuck his head over the rail and looked at us. Gosh, he was surprised!"

Two Meals in Hour
"He threw us a line, though, and we made it fast. Then he dropped a rope over and hauled us over the side."

"What happened then?" the reporter asked gravely.

"Blueberry pie!" shouted Spellman, and he rolled his eyes on recollecting it. "We had blueberry pie, away out there on Boston Lightship. Now, how in the O'! herry do they get blueberry pie out there?"

"We had coffee and biscuits, too. That was at 4 o'clock. We had supper with the men at 5 o'clock."

"What—did you eat again at 5 o'clock?"

"Sure! We had beans and corned beef and blacutts and tea at 5 o'clock."

"After supper they showed us over the ship. Then I played a couple of games of checkers with one of the men. He beat one game and I beat one."

"Spellman's father, George Nawn, was asked if the boy was glad to get home."

"Was he?" that parent repeated. "I'll bet he cried for half an hour, he was so glad to get home. And, gosh, I guess most of us cried with him."

"But he can't get over having blueberry pie on Boston Lightship. I wish you'd explain it to him. I have done my best!"

DAVIS RIDDLES G. O. P. CLAIMS

In his speech at Columbus, Ohio, Hon. John W. Davis dealt with campaign issues in a more direct, candid and incisive manner than in his formal addresses at Clarksburg, Va., and Sea Girt, N. J. He has begun to attack the republican administration of the past four years in its most vulnerable points; and the assault at Columbus resembled the bombardment of an open and unfortified city by heavy artillery. Mr. Davis is a wonderfully able campaigner and yet in the severest blows dealt in his review of the republican administration, he presented only the facts already known throughout the land.

His first principle for bringing about the necessary improvement in government affairs is to put honest men in office and then see that they stay honest. In his speech of acceptance he promised an administration of common justice, common honesty and common courage; and at Columbus he showed by the inexorable logic of facts, that these qualities were all lacking in the administration of the republican party which now seeks retention in power for the next four years. He also showed that capacity for statesmanship and effective leadership were conspicuously lacking in the republican regime.

He cited the quasi-apologetic tone in which President Coolidge in his speech of acceptance said that when officials had been charged with wrong doing, "I have caused them to be investigated and presentations made to the grand jury." In contrast with that tardy and reluctant policy, he cited the action of President Roosevelt who under similar circumstances said, "No man will raise the cry of 'turn the rascals out' against me, because I consider it my business to detect and turn them out myself." The hesitancy shown by the president in the face of revelations of corruption against Daugherty, Denby and Forbes was further compared to the dilatory course of Franklin Pierce in joining the movement to have the state of New Hampshire cast its lot with the north in the struggle which preceded the Civil war. When the decision of Mr. Pierce came, it was pronounced "late, reluctant and unimportant."

So Mr. Davis went through the record of the administration in its empty claims for credit in having formal treaties with several nations ratified following the war, the doubtful value of the boasted armament conference under which we were to scrap certain battleships and accept the 5-5-3 ratio for England, the United States and Japan respectively; and as a result we have already fallen to the ratio of 5-4-2 under the present naval management. He further asserted that this four-power treaty made it impossible for us to defend the Philippines if we wish to keep them. Mr. Davis took occasion to say that he did not for a moment question the honesty of President Coolidge, but he asked of what value are the promises of a party divided so that it cannot carry out its pledges to the people.

The arraignment of the administration for its misuse of the $40,000,000 provided for the disabled veterans was particularly severe; and it was shown that after eighteen months the bureau had provided only 200 additional hospital beds despite the large expenditure.

In the matter of the Dawes report, Mr. Davis showed the weak, spineless and vacillating policy of the administration repudiating any responsibility for the report in the first place and now claiming credit for having named the experts to act on the committee which framed the report, although the whole credit is unjustly being given to General Dawes.

Mr. Davis has shown such an intimate knowledge of the inside workings of the administration that his speeches have a freshness and convincing force that command respect and stir enthusiasm wherever heard. If he can keep up the pace during the campaign, he will assuredly riddle the false claims of the republican leaders as quickly as they are presented. The political bubbles upon which they have set out to conduct their campaign have already been largely punctured and the campaign is only in the initial stage. The progress of the democratic cause thus far points unmistakably to a democratic victory in November. Already the state of Ohio is turning to the democratic party. Davis is teaching the people to see straight in matters political and if he can get his views on the issues of the hour, communicated to the people throughout the nation, there will be no doubt as to his election.

COOLIDGE CAMPAIGN FEATURE

With the hope of boosting the Coolidge candidacy, republican campaigners are to supply a novel feature in a cross country tour by a caravan bearing a number of prominent campaign speakers who will deliver addresses at the more important points on the way. Heading the procession will be a big motor truck bearing a reproduction of the president's birthplace at Plymouth, Vt., and as the expedition will follow the Lincoln highway, it will be called the Coolidge-Dawes-Lincoln tour.

Congressman Tilton of Connecticut and Secretary Sloop are the originators of this idea, which will be carried out with the president's approval while he will remain at his office at Washington.

There is here an evident attempt to link the name of Lincoln with that of Coolidge and Dawes; and doubtless the campaigners will make the most of this idea, as they proceed from Vermont through the states in which the republican cause needs immediate buttressing. This move is doubtless intended to offset the western tour of Sen. John W. Davis; but it is not likely to interfere to any great extent with the success of the Davis tour. It is intended to appeal chiefly to the farmers with whom, despite his posing as the son of a farmer, the president is not at all popular.

THE HOUSING PROBLEM

Several of the local building associations, notably the Highlands Realty Associates and the Belvidere Building Associates, are doing good work toward the solution of the housing problem which is no longer acute in this city.

New buildings equipped with all the more recent conveniences and a ready sale at prices that are fully double what such structures sold for some ten or a dozen years ago.

It had been supposed that the prices of real estate would gradually show a reduction; but the change, if any, thus far is hardly discernible. Some weeks ago it was announced that there was a reduction in the cost of building materials; and while there was a slight reduction, it was not sufficient to make any great difference in the general cost of building operations.

There is a prospect that building construction will be continued to a greater extent into cold weather this year than formerly. A number of new dwellings that have just been closed in, will not be finished until the late fall, and even now some new buildings are not more than well started. It is quite likely that Secretary Hoover's advice will be followed at least by some contractors in carrying building construction through the winter.

SEEN AND HEARD

"Do!" Bartlett says autos started about 10 years ago and some of them look like it.

Again Jack Brennan comes to the fore with the statement that of the 5000 matches lighted every second in the United States, 4000 are borrowed.

Harry disappointed friends to whom he promised asparagus and now he is offering cucumbers as a substitute. Nothing doing, Harry!

Ernest Chambers allows that water wouldn't be caused so much if more of it would stay out of milk and gasoline.

John Maloney says they should call Vermont the marble, rather than the Green Mountain state. He is just back from a trip to Proctor where he was lost for five hours in a marble quarry.

A Thought

Nature designed us to be of good cheer.—Douglas Jerrold.

Coming Changes

The caddy had watched the woman player for some time. Her club flew out of her hand at each stroke. "I can see you becoming a champion soon, ma'am," he said. "O, do you really think so?" she beamed. "Yes, ma'am. At throwin' the hammer."

Why Pick On Me?

A Weary Willy called at an office the other day. "Can't give you a job," said the merchant; "two other men are here on the same errand." Just then another man came in and said to the merchant: "I can find work for one of these men." Then, pointing to the last comer, he said: "You come along with me and I'll find you something to do." In pained and surprised tones, Weary Willy inquired: "Why me?"

Calendar Cook

It seemed to the commuter, impatiently waiting his breakfast, that the eggs were taking ages to come to a boil. He stepped softly to the kitchen door and took a peep. Apparently lost in thought, the new culinary artist was gazing at an advertising calendar, which adorned the kitchen wall. "O, what a nuisance," the suburbanite to himself as he stole back, "this here cook lady cooks by the calendar."

Afraid of Electricity

The lordling has just arrived at the tiny North Wales railway station, and John Evans Jones, the porter, has dragged from the guard's van a store of luggage which included several portable lamps, a camera, fishing and golf tackle and a particularly ferocious bulldog. "Aw, porridge," commanded his lordship, "just put—aw—my portmanteaux, cameras, etcetera, on a cab." John Evans Jones surveyed the bulldog dubiously. "Yes, sir," he said slowly. "The electricer won't bite will he, sir?"

Knockout Withdraws

During the course of a trial a small but aggressive lawyer hurled many opprobrious epithets at counsel on the other side. And many times counsel started at him with right arm drawn back. But he always stopped punishment for the insult by bawling: "I withdraw it." Finally, however, he was too slow, the impending blow landed, and the gentleman kissed the carpet. The attorney with the good right arm was then called to account. "You should not have done that," blurted the judge sternly. "I know it, your honor, I withdraw it."

Same Old Cuff

Playwright Avery Hopwood was talking about the hard times in the movie trade. "Your movie actor," he said, "isn't as spruce as he used to be. Two movie actors met the other day in a cafeteria. 'Hey, didn't you that engagement of ours for last Thursday a week?' said the first actor. 'Have you any excuse to offer, blast you?' 'I didn't make any engagement for last Thursday a week,' said the second actor. 'You did!' said the first. 'You forgot it on your cuff.' The second actor glanced down at his cuff. Then he said: 'Right you are, George, I apologize.'—Los Angeles Times.

Friends

It is not so much in the seeming to be friends, that counts a way. On the surface of friendship's ray, it's the friend who can give and take. 'Mid this daily ebb and flow, it's the friend who is there when the ebbs break, and the tide of joy seems low. And the tide of joy seems low.

It is not so much in the seeming to be big and kind and kind; When the sun o'er-head is shining, And our skies are always blue, It's the kindly glance, that we give to our friend.

That may save a soul from sin; Just a ray of light, in the darkest of our nobler self within.

It is not so much in the seeming to be big and kind and kind; When suddenly we encounter, A friend in some stranger land, It's just to feel, that our friendship's real.

Without one sign of show, That will make him long, 'mid the For the friends of long ago.

It is not so much in the seeming to be big and kind and kind; That grief slips by unnoticed, Or never comes our way, It's the calm, sweet smile of some patient face.

When the heart is due to break—That makes men strong, when the And bids their souls awake!

ELLA A. HILL, 15 Cross Street.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

It seems that several people attending the ball games on the South common have been unfavorably visited by ill luck. Persons who drop articles of clothing or money, while seated on the bleachers find that they are soon picked up and there is no effort made to find the owner. Children who, it seems, are picked up to play, anything that is dropped there, are continually roaming about ready to pounce upon the lost articles. While attending a ball game this week I learned that a lady had dropped a scarf beneath the bleachers and on looking beneath, the article had completely disappeared. It might be a good idea to have the police officer who attends the games take an occasional trip around the bleachers and warn the youngsters against picking up articles even before they are lost.

Trees, nature's most beautiful permanent living statues, are now playing a great part along the highways and in the parks of the country. As a tribute to the memory of the late Woodrow Wilson, the American Legion, Asheville, N. C. is pushing the planting of the "Old Hickory Highway" across North Carolina, at Hamilton, Ohio, the Frank

LOWELL BOYS CAPTURE PRIZES AT DEVENS

Several Lowell boys captured prizes by winning "place honors in various athletic contests, conducted on Wednesday last at the citizens' military training field, Camp Devens. The final and thrilling enough to suit followers of professional sports. Not until the last two events was the most decided. The honors were carried off by members of the third battalion of infantry with the bare margin of four points.

Lowell citizen soldiers figured in the winners' column as follows: Francis L. Seaborn finished third in the 120-yard hurdles; Whitman Pearson captured second place in the one-mile run; P. R. Whitworth, third place in the 440-yard dash.

In the list of best red course students, John J. Brennan of Company I, 3rd battalion, infantry, and B. D. Burrage of the engineers, both of Lowell, starred.

Durwin post is planning a tree-planting crusade at which time it will plant memorial trees along the river front. The plan is to plant a tree for each of the 1000 soldiers who served in the World War. The plan is to plant a tree for each of the 1000 soldiers who served in the World War.

The Merrimack river, from Pawtucket falls to Hunt's falls is, in the opinion of Agent O'Hare of the board of health, a good place not to go in swimming. Despite the warning issued from his office in connection with the unhealthy condition of the water, and attempts of the police to prohibit bathing between the Aiken and Central bridges, Mr. O'Hare is of the opinion that many boys will go in swimming there just as they always have. There is an absolute danger in swimming in the river in the prohibited areas, says Mr. O'Hare, and that danger is the dread disease—typhoid fever. If parents or boys who frequent the river in the prohibited section would impress upon them now how bad the effects of this disease are, then Mr. O'Hare feels the boys would not go "within a mile of the place."

An interesting article relative to the physical equipment a child of 6 years of age should have is printed in Health News for August in which Dr. Horden S. Vedder, child specialist of St. Louis says: "Unless the child has had a thorough physical examination including his general nutrition, eyes, teeth, hearing, heart, lungs and the condition of his adenoids and tonsils and unless steps have been taken to correct the defects found, the child is not ready to enter school." A boy six years old 40 inches high and weighs 26 pounds, while a girl of the same height should weigh 35 pounds. A boy 46 inches in height should weigh 48 pounds and a girl 47. Mothers can learn much of the general condition of her child by checking up on the weight and weight. "The great bugbear of the first year or two in school is the frequency with which colds and other infections are contracted," he says. "Rest at the very beginning of a cold or infection will do much to restore the health and in cases where the slightest indication of fever is apparent the child should not be allowed to go to school."

OVER HILL OVER DALE

From "A Midsummer Night's Dream"

Over hill, over dale,
Thorough bush, thorough tree,
Over park, over pale,
Thorough flood, thorough fire,
I do wander everywhere,
Swifter than the moon's sphere,
And I serve the fairy queen,
To dew her orbs upon the green.
The cowslips tell her pensioners be!
In their gold coats spots you see;
Those be rubies, fairy favors,
In those freckles live their savors:
I must go seek some dewdrops here,
And hang a pearl in every cowslip's ear.

Sketching

When you sit by a phone with a pencil in hand, it is funny what queer things you'll draw. Just markings that none can quite understand; just lines that will perpetrate awe.

Your mind's on your talking; your hand is at ease; it pushes a pencil around. 'Twill scribble and sketch just what ever it please. When you're through, what queer markings are found.

A white piece of paper lies there by the phone and you use it to greatest extent. Just why you are sketching 'twill never be known, but on sketching you're leisurely bent.

Some telephone numbers are written out plain; you don't even know whose they be. The writing you do is just written in vain; my advice, if you leave it to me—

Is, go on do your sketching in telephone booths. There's no one who really can scoff. For when you have finished, the next man, forsooth, will pick up right where you left off.

THREE SHOT IN "DOPE" RAID

Two Alleged Narcotic Peddler and Federal Agent
Shot at New Haven

Eight Men Arrested in Most Extensive Raid Ever Made in New England

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 28.—Two alleged narcotic peddlers and a federal agent were shot and injured, one of the former seriously, in raids by a squad of federal officers in charge of W. D. Allen, Jr., chief narcotic agent for New England, in this city last night and early today, after the agents had purchased quantities of morphine and heroin said to be valued at several thousand dollars, from the men. Officers said the raids were the most extensive yet made in New England.

Fred Clogera, one of the alleged peddlers, is in the hospital with a bullet in the leg and the other, Mike Costello, also at the hospital, has a bullet in the back of his neck which entered one side of his face and covered the end of his tongue. The narcotic agent who has a bullet in the wrist is Joseph W. Gaultier of Boston. An unknown man, believed to have shot Gaultier, made his escape.

Four others, including a taxi driver who is alleged to have delivered the drug to the billiard parlor of V. Mauro, are held in custody. Two other men from whom the officers claim to have purchased narcotics by arrangement, were arrested in a lunchroom near the local railroad station.

The shooting occurred at the Mauro billiard room. After the purchase of the narcotics there, officers said, two shots were fired from a window as a signal to a squad of officers in waiting outside. At hearing the shots one of the alleged peddlers started to flee, firing at the officers, who returned the shot.

The eight men held all reside in this city.

Democratic Committeeman
Loye Attacks Mrs. Ferguson, Nominee for Governor

Texas Leader Declares "Fer-gusonism is More Dangerous Than Ku Kluxism"

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 28. (By the Associated Press).—Thomas R. Loye of Dallas, democratic national committeeman from Texas for five years, announced last night that he would not support Mrs. Miriam Ferguson of Temple in her race for the governorship, and for this reason had sent his resignation to Clem L. Shaver, chairman of the democratic national executive committee.

Mrs. Ferguson, a bitter anti-Klan candidate, was nominated in the runoff primary Aug. 23. She is the wife of former Gov. James A. Ferguson, who was impeached during his second term in office. The principal campaign plea of Mrs. Ferguson who entered the race after her husband was denied the right, by a decision of the supreme court of Texas, was vindication of the Ferguson name.

PRES. COOLIDGE BACK IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—President Coolidge returned to Washington at 7 a. m. today, after a two weeks' vacation on his father's farm at Plymouth, Vt.

The president, with Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John, left the train immediately for the White House for breakfast, after which he took up at once the chain of his official duties. Beginning the day's work with a cabinet meeting this forenoon and an address later in the day before the delegates attending the convention of the National Fraternal congress, his first vacation since taking over the presidency was definitely ended.

The commissioners will meet with ranchers and merchants, who objected to the city's methods of acquiring valley water rights and will endeavor to remove the cause of the ill-feeling which is believed responsible not only for the kidnapping of Hall, but for the dynamiting of a section of the Los Angeles aqueduct last May. Hall was kidnapped by a crowd of men who took him several miles from town and warned him not to return.

HOPE OF QUELLING FEUD

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 28.—Hope of quelling the Owens valley water rights feud, which flared up anew Wednesday night in the kidnapping at Bishop of L. C. Hall, attorney, accused by his fellow townsmen of aiding Los Angeles to acquire water rights in the valley, rested today in the scheduled visit to the trouble zone next Tuesday of members of the public service commission.

The commissioners will meet with ranchers and merchants, who objected to the city's methods of acquiring valley water rights and will endeavor to remove the cause of the ill-feeling which is believed responsible not only for the kidnapping of Hall, but for the dynamiting of a section of the Los Angeles aqueduct last May. ## LARGEST AND SMALLEST DEPUTY SHERIFFS OF MIDDLESEX, SNAPPED AT ELKS' OUTING. HARRY WALKER OF CAMBRIDGE (LEFT) AND ELZEAR J. LAROCHELLE OF LOWELL

Lowell Elks' Outing

Mondell, chairman of the republican committee on nomination of President Coolidge that he had been nominated for the office of president of the United States. In Utah a democratic senator was elected in 1922; in Colorado, a democratic governor was elected in 1922; while Washington, Oregon and Arizona were all carried by the democrats in 1922. Rhode Island elected a democratic governor; so did New Hampshire; and it is reasonably certain that both of these states can be safely counted as democratic in the coming national election. Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota, and Arizona, may be reasonably credited to Senator La Follette. The improbability of electing Calvin Coolidge as president must of necessity be apparent to every student of current American politics. The eleven southern and two border states, which it is generally considered will be carried by Davis, represent 147 votes, the eight voters of Maryland making 155. Conditions in Indiana make reasonably certain democratic success there, and her 15 votes with Nebraska's eight and Missouri's 18, make the count 195. New Hampshire and Rhode Island, nine votes, Nevada 3, Oklahoma 10, Arizona 3, New Mexico 3, Wyoming 3, Delaware 3 and with New York and New Jersey 58, make a total of 283. Allowing the votes of Arizona, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, and Montana, to La Follette, it gives him a total of 29 votes; with President Coolidge receiving 203 votes.

Industrial stability
The danger to the industrial stability of America that might result through the throwing of the election into the United States senate and the possible selection by that body of Charles W. Bryan, will unquestionably be an important factor in the political decision of the business of America. The period of uncertainty and depression which has resulted in part time employment for millions of workers in America in manufacturing lines, and which apparently is not gradually changing, must not be permitted to return. It is for the American people to determine whether their failure to a party tag is of greater moment than their interest in the welfare of the American government and the American people.

From the standpoint of personal honesty John W. Davis is unquestionably the equal of President Coolidge; from the standpoint of ability as an attorney, the judgment of the former republican president, William Howard Taft, that in his opinion John W. Davis is the ablest lawyer in America today is sufficient. From the standpoint of experience, in legislation and the ability to discharge the duties of a most exacting and responsible position John W. Davis has measured up in an exceptional manner and brings an assurance of that greatest of business assets—national confidence.

Fortunately, there is ample time between now and the fifth day of November for the citizenship of America to investigate, to weigh the facts and determine a course of action. While it is true that Senator La Follette does not possess the commanding leadership and magnetism of Theodore Roosevelt, it is nevertheless equally true that the present political upheaval is only within the ranks of the republican party; and the democracy of the nation, presenting a united front and a candidate whom the honest business interests of America can support without fear of reprisals, and the workers of America can vote for with a conviction that they will receive justice, can make the election of John W. Davis, a triumphal success.

FUNERALS OF HERO PRIESTS TOMORROW

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—The funerals of the Rev. Thomas F. Keahane and the Rev. William J. Chittick, the two young priests who were drowned at Marshfield, Wednesday, lying to save a life, will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.
The plans for the funerals were announced yesterday by Cardinal O'Connell.
The services for Father Keahane will be held in St. Patrick's church, Roxbury. Those for Father Chittick will be held in St. Eulalia's church, South Boston. The bodies will lie in state in the respective churches after 5 o'clock this evening.
At Father Keahane's funeral, the Rev. William B. Foley of St. Vincent's church, South Boston, will officiate. At Father Chittick's funeral, the Rev. P. Francis Foley of St. Anna's church, Neponset, will officiate. At both services musical accompaniment will be by the priest's choir of the diocese, half at one church and half at the other.

The Rev. David F. Egan, pastor of St. Ann's church in Roxbury, will preach the eulogy at Father Keahane's funeral. The Rev. Peter J. Conlon of St. Bridget's church, Lexington, will preach the eulogy at Father Chittick's funeral.

Assigning priests to the two services, Cardinal O'Connell chose classmates and close friends of the deceased.

MAYOR CURLEY DENIES PERMIT TO BUS CO.

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—The two jitney permits of the Boston Bus Transportation company to run lines on Center street and Welles avenue, Roxbury were vetoed yesterday by Mayor Curley, immediately after he approved the permit of the Boston Elevated to operate a line on the Center street route.
To the petitioners of the Boston Bus Transportation company he wrote, "In view of the fact that the Elevated will give free transfers, the granting of your license would not improve transportation in the Roxbury district."
The permits of both companies were passed by the city council at their last regular session. At that time it was generally predicted that the permit of the Boston Bus Transportation company would be vetoed because of the belief that there was not sufficient business on the Center street line for competition and that the Elevated could provide better service.

Washington Senators Beat New York Yankees and Move Into First Place

SENSATIONAL RALLY IN EIGHTH GIVES SENATORS GAME AND TOP RUNG

With Score 6 to 3 Against Them Harris Gang Open Up Barrage and Land in Front 11 to 6—Babe Ruth Makes Two Homers

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The Washington Senators are on top at last, leading their league a half game to the fore of the Yankees who dropped to second place, going down to defeat in the first game of the series with the Harris gang, 11 to 6.

With the Yanks leading 6 to 3 at the beginning of the eighth inning, victory seemed assured for the "Harris Gang," and then came the barrage. Two Washington batters, hit safely and Herb Pennock was called from the hill by the midget manager. Gaston was rushed to the plate but to no avail. Packenbaugh, next man up, grounded out to Scott, and one Washington run scored. Lohrstedt batted for Russell and walked. McNeely smacked one to right field, hitting the bases, and another run scored. With the bases still crowded, and the tying run on third, Lohrstedt replaced Gaston with Sam Jones, who made it two out when Lohrstedt was forced at the plate. At this point it looked brighter for the Yanks, but only for a moment, for the next man up lifted one to left field, while Lohrstedt in the sun, three runs scoring. Judge, Blum, and Packenbaugh all hit safely in order and three more runners crossed the plate. The tying run came when Marmah who had just replaced Jones, retired Lohrstedt for the final out. Marmah, who went in to pitch the last two innings for the Senators, turned back the Yanks without a score.

Ruth Hits Two Homers
Babe Ruth hit two homers in the game and paced his 1934 home record when he hit his forty-second

Mysteries vs. Victorias.

In a fast, close game, the Emeralds defeated the Iroquois 6 to 6, on the North common.

Because of illness, Vergades, who was scheduled to pitch for the Emeralds, was unable to start the game and Normandin was forced to substitute for him. The winners had first chance at bat but were unable to score a point.

The Emeralds scored their last run in the first of the fourth. The Iroquois then scored a run in the fourth, fifth and sixth, and in the final frame had a man on base for the tying run when Normandin struck out the third man.

The Emeralds made a total of nine hits, good for all, while the Iroquois grabbed five hits, all singles.

Youngsters Give Pirates New Life

Look out for the Pittsburgh Pirates. Five recruits have joined the club into permanent contenders. Manager Bill McKechnie may not win the National League batting with his Buccaneers, but he is going to make the race decidedly interesting.

At present, the New York Giants are regarded as the favorite to win the National League. In the spring, prior to the opening of the season, in hoping out the chances of the National League club, I leaned strongly to the Pirates. I picked Pittsburgh as the one team with a great chance to make trouble for the Giants.

During the first two months of the race the play of the Pirates made me feel as if I didn't know a thing about baseball. When the pitchers worked well the batters didn't hit and vice versa. The club looked consistently simply couldn't win with regularity.

Perhaps too late, the Pirates have struck their salt, are playing the fine ball to team in capable of doing anything. New York hard, despite the big lead gained by the Giants while Pittsburgh was floundering about.

Five Glorious Recruits
In the fine showing of the Pittsburgh club the work of five recruits stands out prominently. Usually a club is fortunate enough to have a couple of recruits develop into regulars it is satisfied. Five recruits, Wright, Cuyler, Yde, Moore and Kremer, have delivered for the Pirates.

While the great hitting of Outfielder Cuyler, the fine work of Moore when substituting for Traynor at third, and the excellent pitching of Yde and Kremer have helped greatly, the acquisition of Shortstop Wright has done much to make the Pirates a strong pennant possibility.

A seldom has a club, lacking a brilliant shortstop, won a pennant. A base is most essential to success. Wright has made good the fine things said about his fielding ability. He has exceeded expectations at the bat. Many of his biggest boosters had a fear for his hitting.

Wright supplanted Maranville at short. What to do with Maranville was a problem. He was shifted to second base and has fitted in perfectly. No doubt Wright has profited greatly from having so able a head as Maranville playing alongside of him.

Moore Stars as Sub
While Moore hasn't enjoyed as strong a spotlight as the other four rookies, his work has been no less meritorious.

When substituting for Third Baseman "Pie" Traynor, Moore played great ball and hit a J. Rogers Hornsby. In 35 games played he has an average close to .400.

If the Pirates pull the unexpected and nose out the Giants, the major portion of the credit for the win must go to the five rookies, Wright, Cuyler, Yde, Moore and Kremer.

While the veteran stars of the club have performed nobly, it must be conceded the new men have added the strength that has made the Pirates a potential winner.

At that, the one-hit victory made the fourth in a succession that the Pirates right-handers have twirled for the Believers this season. The win marked the twelfth league victory for the Believers, who were piloted through a highly successful season by the energetic Thomas Fleming, manager de luxe. Because of their season-long playing during the season, the Believers have been selected to play St. Peter's Cadets on the common at 1 o'clock next Monday afternoon, Labor Day.

Last night's game was a pitcher's battle between Traynor and Henry "Mike" Gibbons, former high school star. While both exhibited wildness at times, Traynor won out because of heads-up work by his team-mates on the bases plus a little of the luck that invariably accompanies a winner.

There was a total of 11 hits, 6 for the Believers and 5 for the St. Peter's Cadets. Gibbons, who was a wicked three-ply wallop off Abe Buckley's trusty, batting bluegum. Ordinarily, the hit would be good for a single, but the ball took a mean hop as it approached Right Fielder Barger and went for a three sacker, sending in a runner.

The champions scored in the first inning on account of Gibbons' wildness. Ralph Jenkins and Franko Purcell, who were in the high and low, were passed. Williams got one on, Onanlian, who erred on the play while Jenkins tallied.

In the second, the Americans tied it up on Daley's two-base clout, and bases on balls to Souza, Carr and Gibbons, who last free ticket forcing in a run.

A base on balls to Purcell, his second and last, of the evening, started the Believers on the path to victory in the third. Williams sent him along on a pretty sacrifice and then Buckley clipped the horsehair for a lucky triple to right. Purcell registering. Buckley counted when Ducky Bradbury lifted a high sacrifice fly to Gleason in center.

After Jenkins, Williams and Buckley had singled in the fifth, Umpire Carr, Allen called play on account of darkness and the score reverted to even innings. With only one out, the Believers had sent three additional runs over the pan in the fifth, but these were cancelled out by the St. Peter's, in the absence of Buster Curtin, performed satisfactorily as umpire on bases.

A foul fly off Daley's bat in the fourth highest down on Michael Delahanty, drew all damaging it beyond repair. Delahanty was a spectator in the first base stand.

A French brier smoking set, donated by John Peters, proprietor of Marie's restaurant, was won in a raffle, by Jack Donovan.

BELIEVES WIN LAST GAME

Defeat Americans, 3-1, in Final City Twi League Appearance

Snubber Trask Allows But One Hit in Duel With Gibbons

The Believers last night laid good-bye to 1934 league ball on the South common by defeating Marie's Americans by a score of 3 to 1 in a game cut short in the fifth inning because of darkness. "Snubber" Trask, recognized ace of City Twilight League hurlers, covered himself with another crown glory by allowing the heavy-hitting Americans but one solitary hit, a double by Percy Daly down the first base line that whizzed past Jim O'Brien with the speed of a machine gun bullet and then caromed against a post in right field. It was tough to rock the hard-working Snubber during the season, but in scoring a single like Daley's, the batter must be given the preference.

At that, the one-hit victory made the fourth in a succession that the Pirates right-handers have twirled for the Believers this season. ## Man o' War's New Fame

(By N.E.A. Service)
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Man o' War's fame as a runner will live for ages. No greater horse was ever seen on the American turf. Three years ago the champion was retired and put in stud. This year his first act of offspring made their debut in competition.

It is seldom that a great thoroughbred proves a great sire. Man o' War seems to be the inevitable exception. Three of his progeny scored recent victories at Saratoga Springs.

URGE LA FOLLETTE TO VISIT NEW ENGLAND

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Senator La Follette, independent presidential candidate, is being urged by some of his advisors to follow Senator Wheeler of Montana, his running mate, into New England for at least one campaign speech.

Mr. Wheeler will begin a stump tour today with an address on Boston common. In quick succession, he will deliver speeches in at least a dozen other New England cities before leaving New York and probably other eastern states.

Senator La Follette also will speak on Labor day, but not to a visible audience, arrangements having been made to have a dozen radio stations broadcast his address. Still of the opinion that he should not launch his active campaign before mid-September, he expects to get under way with a certain dash in New York City.

Albert B. Roe, in charge of eastern campaign headquarters, who is here conferring with Mr. La Follette, is one of those advising him to make a personal appeal for support in New Eng-

PLEDGE CO-OPERATION IN DEFENSE TEST SEPT. 12

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Pledging support to the government and co-operation in the defense test on Sept. 12, patriotic and veteran organizations rallied here today at the invitation of Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The program included a business meeting at Memorial Continental hall with an address by Brigadier-General Hugh A. Drum at the general staff of the war department in the morning; an afternoon gathering to hear Major-General John L. Hines, deputy chief of staff, and a dinner conference at a local hotel, where national executives of the veteran and patriotic societies will speak.

WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Lowell Playground Team Wins Inter-City Title by Defeating Haverhill

The inter-city baseball championship for 1924, involving representative playground teams from Lowell and Haverhill, was awarded to the local nine on the South common yesterday afternoon when Left Fielder Paul of Lowell crashed out a single to center field that scored Plouffe from second and gave the home team an 8 to 7 victory in the twelfth and final inning of play.

It was a spirited contest all the way through with Haverhill getting the breaks early in the game, and Lowell coming strong at the tape and scoring the tying run in the ninth when all seemed lost. Haverhill was leading by a 5 to 4 margin when Lowell went to the bat in the last half of the ninth when Jazz Boyce, the local mound artist, scored on Keefe's fourth single of the fray.

The deadlock necessitated extra sessions, and Haverhill entered the tenth frame a dangerous proposition. Two runs were scored before the side was retired and again Lowell was in the rear. By dint of consistent hitting and flashy base-running, however, the score was once more tied, this time at seven all.

Neither side was able to score in the eleventh, and Haverhill was extinguished one-two-three in the 12th. In the final half of this stanza, local bats got to Pitcher McDaniels and the winning run crossed the plate when Boyce's single was of sufficient length to bring Plouffe across.

The work of the opposing pitchers featured the game. Both had 12 strikeouts to their credit, but the Lowell boy allowed but 10 hits, while McDaniels featured the game. ## AMUSEMENT NOTES

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

It is a smart bill which is being presented at the R. F. Keith theatre this week. Lively are the music and the comedy, and the farce called "Waiting," in which Joseph Stanley plays the leading part, is one round of pleasure. There is no boy just like Stanley on the stage. His humor is original and always to the point. Mary and Ann Clark, in their sketch, are uncommonly good, and Roger Williams, the man from Dixie, is another first class performer. Others on the bill are: the Jack Hughes duo, instrumentalists; Cohan and Garretson, singers; and Jack and Jessie Gibson, ex-cits. "Behold This Woman" is the strikingly good picture feature.

RIALTO THEATRE

Florence Vidor is splendid in the role of "Alice Adams" in the picture of the same name which is now playing at the Rialto theatre. It is the Pulitzer prize play of 1923 and is considered to be Booth Tarkington's masterpiece. The action takes place in a typical American village and the characters are all drawn true to life. There are indeed many girls like poor Alice.

Jack Hoxie in "Dead or Alive," a strong western drama, the twelfth round of H. C. Witwer's "Fighting Blood," the second chapter of Emerson Hough's "The Way of a Man" and Fox News are included in the bill.

MERRIMACK SQUARE

A magnificent epic of the early west is James Cruze's latest Paramount production, "The Covered Wagon," which will be the feature attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre all next week, beginning Sunday. For the first time since it began sweeping the country on a tremendous wave of popularity, "The Covered Wagon" will be shown in Lowell at popular prices. This will give hundreds who hitherto have been denied the opportunity of seeing the production a chance to realize just what a masterpiece of film-dom it really is. The leading man is Warren Kerrigan and the leading woman Lois Wilson.

Features of the current program at the Merrimack Square are "Daddies," and adaptation of the David Belasco stage success, with Mae Marsh in the leading role, and "Cupid's Fireman," a most entertaining romance dedicated to women of the world over.

GENERAL EDWARDS WILL SPEAK HERE

Major General Clarence R. Edwards, wartime commander of the Yankee division, retired regular army officer and past commander of the state department of the American legion, will speak at the Memorial Auditorium next Tuesday night for the candidacy of James Jackson against Alvan T. Fuller for the republican nomination for governor. Mr. Jackson will also speak at this rally as will John L. Hurley of Malden.

PATTANGALL DECLARES ROOSEVELT PRINCIPAL ANTI-KLAN

Quotes Former President Who Said in 1903 That "Any Man Who is Good Enough to Shed Blood for Country Good Enough to Be Given Square Deal"

ROCKLAND, Me., Aug. 28.—The doctrine of Theodore Roosevelt, as enunciated in a speech in 1903 at Springfield, Mass., that "any man who is good enough to shed his blood for his country is good enough to be given a square deal," was stressed last night by the democratic candidate for governor, William R. Pattangall, in a speech at Thomaston.

As Mr. Pattangall quoted the words of President Roosevelt, applying them to the present Klan situation in Maine, he was loudly applauded.

Mr. Pattangall, accompanied by Bertrand G. McElhiney, candidate for congress for this district; Mrs. Antoinette Funk of Washington, D. C., and several of the local leaders, made a tour of a section of this territory yesterday. The democratic standard bearer, much to his chagrin, found that so much bugging of hours in speaking dates had been done that audiences were not on hand to hear him. He said that many friends along the long route, that led through miles of dusty country roads, however.

In Rare Form at Thomaston

Assurances have been pouring in on all sides in the past few days that many republicans will support Mr. Pattangall in his stand against the Klan.

It was a picturesque sight last night when the democratic candidate mounted the rear of a Ford truck in the main street of Thomaston, shortly before his speech here in the Arcade theatre, and addressed a big audience that filled the broad sidewalk.

Mr. Pattangall has never been in better form than he was last night and he has had more attentive audience than that which greeted him in Thomaston.

Bureau Brings Laughter

"I think that it is necessary for a candidate for office to meet the people," declared the speaker. "No candidate has a right to run for office unless he tells the people how he stands on public questions."

He got a big laugh from his audience when he remarked that politicians of the present day have grown "refined and cultured." "They come into a place now," he said, "and they compliment you on your fine town, they speak of the delightful weather and they say that they are delighted to see so many intelligent faces before them."

Mr. Emery said that the chief duty of the governor is to dress up and go visiting. Now I seldom dress up and rarely go visiting, so I don't fit into that sort of a scheme."

Urges All to Get Out and Vote

Mr. Pattangall urged that those who vote should do so with the same feeling they would have in town meeting. In other words to take up the matter of the state as a duty that should be attended to with fidelity. He said that it costs one hundred thousand dollars to run a state "rotten and corrupt." "They come into a place now," he said, "and they compliment you on your fine town, they speak of the delightful weather and they say that they are delighted to see so many intelligent faces before them."

Mr. Emery said that the chief duty of the governor is to dress up and go visiting. Now I seldom dress up and rarely go visiting, so I don't fit into that sort of a scheme."

Charge "Whispering Campaign"

"This state today is in a position in which it will be carried by the democrats today if counties like Knox will do their part. It don't expect any extraordinary work, simply each and everyone to do his or her part."

"I have been all over Maine with the exception of one county. Wherever I've been the democrats are working together, side by side. There is no friction and no jealousy. They are working to win the election. The democrats are alive today because the republicans are with 'em. Knox county was the lead-off democratic county. Before women voted we had 3000 democratic votes in Knox and now we have 6000."

Mr. Pattangall charged that well-known republicans are carrying on a "whispering campaign."

In his speech Mr. Pattangall said that he wanted to talk to the republicans for "five minutes." In doing so he urged them to show their "political independence" and then mentioned a conversation that he had with Harold Sewall of Bath, a well known Maine republican, at the time of the democratic national convention in New York.

Mr. Sewall said to me in my room at the hotel that I couldn't be elected governor of Maine. I asked him why, and he replied: "We've got thousands and thousands of republican votes we can't alienate if we try to do so."

Mr. Pattangall said that this story illustrated the feelings of some republicans, who would vote a ticket, even if it had only the name "republican" printed at the top of the ballot without any names of candidates following. He added that the same might be said of many democrats.

Flays Klan With Klansmen Present

"Unless a people are politically independent they cannot get any benefit from their government," Mr. Pattangall went on, impressively.

In talking up the subject of the Klan, which he did with many Klansmen and Klan sympathizers in the audience, it is interesting to note that Mr. Pattangall said that it is impossible to run the American government with secret societies without tearing down the fabric of government.

Mr. Pattangall's audience in the Arcade theatre here was large and appreciative. Mrs. Antoinette Funk was the first speaker here last night, addressing herself to the women as well as the men. Mrs. Funk is strongly opposed to the Klan and has made a study of its workings. She will make several speeches in this vicinity before returning to the capital.

INSTITUTE OF POLITICS

Trend Toward Controversial Discussion of Far Eastern Situation Checked

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 28.—A trend toward controversial discussion of the Far Eastern situation on the basis of novel strategy was checked in the conference on population at the Institute of Politics today when Professor Jean N. Cru of Williamstown objected that the meeting was departing from its subject and Professor Henry Pratt Fairchild brought it back to general consideration of the problem set for it.

Rear-Admiral W. L. Rodgers considered pointed out with the expansion of population of the United States and Canada, Australia would become the object of conflict between the white and yellow races. He said that the Philippines are on the line of communication by which the open door to the east can be maintained and added that it was a prevalent impression that Japan was fomenting the Filipino agitation for independence.

Yusuki Tsurumi, the Japanese lecturer here, replied that the great majority of Japanese have no desire to interfere with independence of the Philippines whenever it is achieved. No proof of what he said of the independence agitation but it was generally admitted that he had belief. Dr. Morley Bonn, in a statement today said that the German government would take all necessary steps to see that the acceptance of the Dawes plan was secured, and if it was not achieved under the present government, it would be under another.

U. S. WARSHIPS RUSH TO SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI, Aug. 28.—(By the Associated Press) British and American warships are proceeding here from Chefoo and Wei Hai Wei in connection with the seizure by the tuchuns of the Chinese and Klan provinces of different sections of the Peking-Nanking railway.

The situation was unchanged today and no fighting occurred during the day between the forces of Chi Shieh-Yuan, military governor of Kiangsu and General Lu Yang-Hsiang, tuchun of Cheching province.

Communications with Peking have been restored but traffic is not normal because of the iron movements. A censorship has been established on all telegraph communications from Shanghai to the interior and no code messages are allowed unless the keys to the code are presented with the messages. Activities of business firms are considerably disturbed.

PEKING, Aug. 28.—(By the Associated Press)

The diplomatic corps, through the British minister, Sir Ronald Maclean, today sent a note to the Chinese government declaring that the Chinese government would be held responsible for any injury to foreigners or their property as a result of conflict threatening in the vicinity of Shanghai.

LAKES OF GASOLINE

Tank Cars Burnt Spilling Gas Over Landscape—Residents, Bail it Up

WEST BRIDGEWATER, Mass., Aug. 28.—Eight freight cars, three of them gasoline tank cars, jumped the track this morning at the Cohasset railroad station on the Shovel Handle branch of the New Haven road. The tank cars burst, spilling gasoline all over the landscape. Lakes of gasoline formed and over 100 residents attracted by the wreck bailed up the gas for their fires.

No one was injured by the derailment, which was due to the storm undermining the tracks, which already were in poor and unkempt condition. The police and fire department took precautions against fire hazard. The wrecking crew arrived at 11:30 to clean up the debris.

SAYS WAR DEPT. OUT OF STEP WITH COOLIDGE

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 28.—Despite President Coolidge's interpretation of plans for observance of Defense Day, Sept. 17, as a purely voluntary proposition, Governor Bryan, democratic vice-presidential candidate, declared today that the war department is proceeding with its militaristic program for the day.

"The war department's plan," Governor Bryan said, "is conflicting and out of harmony with the civil head of the government, which is supreme. It is attempting to go ahead with its militaristic program regardless of the fact that the president has said there was no such intention."

CASTLE LIGHTED FOR SECOND TIME IN HISTORY

MUNICH, Aug. 28.—(By Associated Press) Mirrors in the castle Herrenchiemsee recently was illuminated by its 450 candles for the second time since the castle was built. The occasion was a gathering of Bavaria's first citizens, including members of the former royal family, invited by the government.

The first complete illumination of mirrors in adjacent rooms was in 1856, ordered by Prince Regent Luitpold to honor the Shah of Persia, then visiting the Bavarian court.

WHOLESALE THEFT OF GOVERNMENT PROPERTY

CHILlicothe, O., Aug. 28.—Charged with systematic and wholesale theft of government property at Camp Sherman and with conspiracy to defraud the United States government, Camp Sherman Veterans Bureau officials and department of justice men arrested Myron G. Hock, Milwaukee and Cleveland wrecking contractor; A. A. J. Phillips, superintendent of the local wrecking plant and Lawrence Williams, a labor gang foreman.

SERIES OF EXPLOSIONS IN GUN POWDER DEPOT

FEELS "ACE" GUILTY OF WRONG-DOING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Postmaster-General New declared today that information in his possession, forced him to the conclusion that Postoffice Inspector William F. V. now held for complicity in the $2,000,000 mail robbery at Roundout, Ill., last June, was guilty of wrongdoing.

REINDEER MAJOR INDUSTRY FOR ALASKA

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 28.—(By Associated Press) Extensive preparations have been made to place Alaska's reindeer industry this fall on a par with fox-raising, mining, fishing and sheep-raising in the territory, according to Carl J. Lomen, president of a trading corporation.

Mr. Lomen explained that despite the fact that many natives are very wealthy on paper, due to their large reindeer herds, they are nearly starving. The herds have increased to a point where they must be depleted. The one sure way, without waste, is to cultivate a taste for reindeer meat, not only throughout Alaska, but in the United States and in foreign countries.

GERMAN REICHSTAG ACCEPTS DAWES REPARATION PLAN AGREEMENT

Adopts by Vote of 314 to 127, the Necessary Two-Thirds Majority, the Railway Bill to Put Into Effect Provisions of London Pact

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—(By the Associated Press)—The German reichstag today accepted the Dawes reparation plan agreement concluded at the recent London conference, by adopting by a vote of 314 to 127, the necessary two-thirds majority, the railway bill to put into effect the provision of the London agreement.

The German Nationalists, whose open opposition to the agreement and whose attack on it during the debate yesterday and today had made the results of the voting problematical, voted in favor of the railway bill but they voted against the banking bill, another of the Dawes measures, which, nevertheless, was adopted by a

BODIES RIDDLED WITH GUNSHOT

Police Find Bodies of Two Men in Isolated Spot in Outlying Brooklyn

Believe Men Involved in Bootlegging Scheme and Lured to Spot and Shot

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The bodies of two men riddled with gunshot were found early this morning in an isolated spot in outlying Brooklyn. A few hundred feet away two shotguns which had been recently discharged, were discovered. One of the men was identified by papers found on his body as Carl O. Guttabauro, of Manhattan. There was nothing to identify the other. The police are of the opinion that the men were involved in a bootlegging scheme, and were lured to this spot and shot. A check for 4000 lire, drawn on a local Italian bank, was found in Guttabauro's pocket.

Federal and Local Officers Raid Middlesex Street Store

POLICE LOADING 5-TON TRUCK WITH CONFISCATED ARTICLES

Green River Malt Company Loses $2000 of Goods Used in the Making of Near-Beer

—Capping Machines, Bottles and Other Stuff Removed to Police Station — First Seizure of Kind Made Here — Two Men Arrested Are Bailed in $1000 Each

While hundreds of curious spectators looked on, federal and local liquor enforcement officers this morning removed more than $2000 worth of alleged near-beer manufacturing paraphernalia, including bottles, cans, stoppers and capping machines, from the establishment of the Green River Malt company at the corner of Middlesex and Pearl streets.

The haul, the largest, and incidentally the first of its kind in this city, was placed in a 5-ton truck and deposited for safe keeping in the cellar of the Market street police station, three loads being required to complete the wholesale confiscation.

Armed with a federal search warrant issued by a United States commissioner, Federal Agent, Walter Bowers, with Capt. George Palmer and Officers William E. Liston and John J. Leahy of the local liquor squad, executed the big raid about 10 o'clock this morning. This event marked the first seizure of this nature, the officers said, under a new federal ruling which calls for the abolition of any and all centers where liquor manufacturing equipment is distributed. Other Lowell establishments will be dealt with similarly, they intimated.

The Green River Malt company, which has been doing business at the company at 10 o'clock this morning and seized about $2000 worth of materials used in the manufacture of beer and whiskey. Raids were conducted simultaneously in stores conducted by the company in eleven other cities, federal authorities said. A quantity of "whiskey" labels were also seized.

Two arrests were made. Benny Cohen, the manager, and Henry Polvin, a clerk, both of Revere, were charged with violating the national prohibition act.

Every available space in the sales and storage rooms was occupied with empty bottles and cans. Conspicuously posted in the main room was a sign with the words: "Hop and malt for food and medicinal purposes." There were several other signs also explaining the contents of the establishment.

The members of the raiding party, diverting themselves of their coats, were kept busy for more than two hours in removing the seized goods.

Two Arrests

Early this afternoon, Charles I. Bloom of 37 Chelmsford street, alleged proprietor of the store, and Edward Blank of 198 Grand street, clerk, were placed under arrest, charged with violating the national prohibition act. They were bailed in $1000 each.

FRATERNAL SOCIETIES PRAISED BY PRES. COOLIDGE AT CONGRESS

Characterizes Spirit of Brotherhood as the Fundamental Principle of Our Country—More Equality in United States Than is Appreciated

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Fraternalism as a "strong reliance of ordered government, according to public law," was praised today by President Coolidge in an address to a delegation representing the National Fraternal congress.

"The climax of nearly all fraternal organizations," Mr. Coolidge said, "are based upon religion. No true fraternity can rest on any other conception. It is for these reasons that they are supporters of the true aims of society, strong reliance of ordered government, according to public law, able advocates of the cause of righteousness and religion, and effective promoters of peace and good will among the nations of the earth."

The president characterized the spirit of brotherhood as the "fundamental principle of our country—more equality in United States than is appreciated."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Major William N. Hensley, Jr., left Mitchell field in an airplane at 1 o'clock today to meet the steamship Berangaria and send by radio from the plane to the ship official messages of greeting to the Prince of Wales from Governor Smith and Mayor Hylan.

The army plane is to circle above the welcoming messages into a broadcasting apparatus installed in the cockpit. The prince is to "listen in" from his suite on the Berangaria as the liner comes up the bay.

Lieutenant M. L. Elliott piloted the plane which left Mitchell field, when word was received that the Berangaria had passed First Island.

The governor's message said: "I have the honor to express the greetings and extend a warm, friendly welcome in behalf of the people of the state of New York on the occasion of the arrival of your royal highness in our harbor. This greeting is sent you through the courtesy of the United States army air service, one of whose airplanes is circling over your vessel."

Placed on Trial on Charges of Counter-Revolutionary Activities

MOSCOW, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—A trial on charges of counter-revolutionary activities among the Cossack population of the Kuban province has ended before the criminal court of the Kuban district, sitting at Armavir, with the sentencing to death of 25 officers of the czarist army, the sentencing to various terms of imprisonment of 40 other accused

"NICKLE PLATE" MERGER

Official Statement Giving All Details of Major Consolidation to Be Issued

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—An official statement giving all the terms and details of the proposed merger of the Nickel Plate system with four other railroads into one large system is expected to be issued today on behalf of C. P. and M. J. Van Swearingen of Cleveland, who engineered the merger. It will be the second major consolidation under the transportation act of 1920. The issuance of this statement, it was pointed out, was made possible by the action taken by directors of the Pere Marquette railway in approving the terms of the merger at a special meeting yesterday. The Pere Marquette is the last of the five railroads included in the combination to take official action on the proposed consolidation. In addition to the Nickel Plate, the consolidated system will include the Erie railroad, the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Rocking Valley and the Pere Marquette.

FLIGHT AGAIN DELAYED

Continuing Stormy Weather Has Caused Further Postponement of Hop Off

U. S. S. RICHMOND AT ICE TICKET, Labrador, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Continuing stormy weather has caused further postponement of the American army world aviators' flight here from Iqaluit, Greenland. It is now announced that no attempt will be made to get away before tomorrow morning. The route of the flight stretches for 572 miles across the arm of the Atlantic which sweeps north-northwest into Davis Strait and serves as a highway for icebergs floating down the Labrador current into the broad ocean. The warm air from the south, meeting the ice, causes dense fogs almost constantly, making an aerial crossing perilous except under unusually favorable conditions. Marine reports place the fog occurrence as high as sixty per cent.

Unusual precautions have been taken by the conveying naval squadron to safeguard the aviators on this final and dangerous leg of their homeward trans-Atlantic swing. No less than six ships will be stationed along the route in constant communication and with an elaborate system of signaling to the aviators as they pass.

Weather reports from each vessel will be transmitted by wireless to the U. S. S. Milwaukee at Iqaluit for the information of Lieutenant Lowell Smith and his comrades before they take to the air.

As the planes proceed each vessel will inform the aviators by signals of the weather prospects ahead.

The longest gap between the ships will be 110 miles. The Milwaukee will be at Iqaluit and then, in order, to the west the destroyers Coghlan, McFarland, Charles Ausburn and Lawrence, with the cruiser Richmond 25 miles from the Labrador coast.

A message received by Rear-Admiral Bragdon from Lieutenant Smith said last night said the new engines had been installed in the planes and tested and that the fliers were awaiting only favorable weather to begin their hop to Labrador.

Fair weather is predicted on the Labrador coast for today, but the storm passing east will probably bring rain and wind at Iqaluit. Indications are that the weather will clear up tomorrow on the Greenland side of the water.

"HOME RUN" BAKER PREVENTS LYNCHING

EASTON, Md., Aug. 29.—"Home Run" Baker, former Philadelphia and New York baseball star, early yesterday arrested a negro charged with attacking Baker's sister-in-law, and then saved the negro from a mob that wanted to lynch him.

The negro, Harold Gibson, hired man on the farm of Patrick Baker, a brother of "Home Run," was pointed out to the former swat king at a carnival in Trappe, a few miles from here. Searchers had been looking for him for several hours. "Home Run" grabbed Gibson and said: "Come on with me."

"Lynch him!" shouted the crowd. "Let him alone," cried Baker. And he took Gibson to the Easton jail. The attack occurred on the Baker farm, an isolated place about five miles south of Trappe. Patrick Baker and his daughter, Dorothy, were away at the time. Several hours later the husband returned to find his wife bruised and unconscious.

SOFTENING WATER If water is very hard it should be softened for laundry purposes with a mild alkali—borax being the best for this purpose.

RECOVER CHECKS
FOR $112,000Quick Recovery Follows
Holdup of Bank Messengers at Newark, N. J.Four Youthful Bandits
Stopped Messengers, Took Bag and Fled

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 28.—Checks totaling $112,000 which shortly after 9 a. m. today were seized from two messengers of the Northward National bank by four armed bandits, were recovered within half an hour after the hold-up by Kearney police.

The bag in which George Morgan, 25, and Harry Spooner, 18, the bank messengers, were taking the checks to the Newark clearing house was found in a Kearney street house and taken to police headquarters.

Despite the presence of early morning crowds and of several police on nearby corners, the four bandits, who police believe were little more than youths, stopped the messengers at the point of view, seized the bag, containing the checks and sped away towards Kearney, in a waiting automobile, bearing a New York license.

U. S. FLIERS TO ATTEMPT HOP TOMORROW

ABOARD U. S. S. RICHMOND AT JOE TICKLE, Labrador, Aug. 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—Clearing weather today between here and Greenland gave rise to the belief that the American army world fliers would attempt the hop from Iqaluit to Indian Harbor tomorrow. Already the destroyers McFarland and Charles Ausburn have left to take up their stations between Indian Harbor and Greenland. The cruiser Richmond, which will remain here to await the landing of the fliers on American shore, is planning to send its small seaplane out to meet the fliers and escort them to their landing place.

OPEN WARFARE IN CHINA NEAR

Spark Igniting All China in Hostilities Seen in Impending Conflict

Preparations for Fighting on Huge Scale Underway in Quinsan Section

SHANGHAI, Aug. 28.—(By the Associated Press.) The spark igniting all China in open warfare was seen today in the impending conflict in the eastern portions of Kiangsu province in which Chi-Shien-Yuan, the aggressor, expects to drive out his rival, Lu Yung-Hsiang, ruler of the contested section of Kiangsu province since his appointment under the deposed Anfu party as tuchun of Chekiang province. Lu retained his power after the overthrow of the Anfu and to be the pro-Japanese party in China in 1919.

General Wu Pei-Fu, who has ruled as a military power in China since he defeated the armies of Marshal Chang Kuo-Lin, war lord of Manchuria in 1922, has ordered his troops from Chihli province, where Peking is located, to the aid of Chi-Shien-Yuan. It is believed that any weakening of General Wu's Chihli position would furnish Chang Kuo-Lin his long-awaited opportunity to move southward again against Peking, an expedition for which he has been preparing since his defeat two years ago.

Another factor in the marshaling of forces in the southern government of China, who although his armies have been weakened by long continued local conflicts in the vicinity of Canton, is regarded as a supporter of Lu Yung-Hsiang.

Fighting on Huge Scale Planned

An inspection of the Quinsan section, whose inhabitants fled to the foreign sections here with other refugees from the war zone, reveals preparations for fighting on a huge scale. Twenty-five thousand troops have already been centered on Quinsan, including artillery and machine-gun divisions and fighting is expected to break out momentarily as the opposing forces are within five miles of each other.

General Ho-Feng-Ling, military governor of the Shanghai-Sun Kiang district, today estimated that 30,000 additional troops are scattered over points between Wusung and Shanghai up to Nanking, where the opposing forces are expected to clash also.

Many of General Wu Pei-Fu's Chihli troops have been sent from Peking to join with the forces of Chi-Shien-Yuan at Nanking while 30,000 troops in addition to those in the war zone, are being sent from Chihli province.

The immediate basis for the conflict is contained in charges by Chi-Shien-Yuan that his rival, Lu Yung-Hsiang, violated a peace treaty signed two years ago by the Kiangsu and Chekiang provinces, by harboring and accepting support from two military leaders lately expelled by the northern forces with which Chi is aligned. Chi will move overland against Shanghai, he said, taking the outskirts of the city, at the same time attacking Wusung by sea and land.

A warning issued by naval authorities to all craft, advising against ascending the Whangpoo river toward Shanghai between sunset and sunrise, is expected to have the effect of bringing concentration of all foreign war craft here.

Trains arriving here hourly from the armed districts are carrying thousands of refugees who are seeking protection in the foreign settlements. The situation in foreign Chinese commercial circles is described as "extremely uneasy" and is reflected in the fall in value of some Chinese bank notes and runs on several of the banks.

With war preparations on in full blast on both sides, trains are still running on the Shanghai-Nanking railway, although the schedules are irregular because of the confusion.

British Trade Warning

PEKING, Aug. 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—In addition to the warning note sent by the diplomatic corps to the Chinese foreign office yesterday declaring that the government would be held responsible for injuries to foreigners or property in the war zone which is threatened in the vicinity of Shanghai, the British minister is understood to have sent a note regarding the Shanghai-Nanking railway, which is menaced by the hostile Chinese forces.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Heavy trans-Atlantic travel and reduced operating costs enabled the International Mercantile Marine company to increase earnings in the first half of the year about $1,500,000 over the corresponding period of 1923.

July was a poor month for the Pennsylvania railroad system. Gross revenues fell nearly $11,000,000 to $58,597,233 compared with July 1923. Net operating income declined more than $2,000,000 to $5,362,137.

The French cotton industry increased production considerably in the year 1923-24 according to figures received by the Bankers Trust company of New York showing that the amount turned out per spindle and per loom rose respectively by 3.8 per cent, for spun cotton and 24.4 per cent for woven goods compared with the 1921 production.

Put on Flesh and Build
Them Up—Quick

In just a few days—quicker than you ever dreamt of—these wonderful flesh-making tablets called McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets will start to help any weak, thin, under-nourished little one.

After sickness and where rickets are suspected they are especially valuable. No need to give them any more nasty Cod Liver Oil—these tablets are made to take the place of that good but evil smelling stomach-upsetting medicine and they surely do it. They do put on flesh.

"My son, 16, became thin and pale and did not gain needed nourishment from his food until he took McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets. In a little over two months he gained eleven and a half pounds and feels and looks 100 per cent better."

George C. O'Brien, Mahwah, N. J. Ask Green's Drug Store, A. W. Dows & Co., Fred Howard, or any druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets—as easy to take as candy and not at all expensive—60 tablets 60 cents.

Spindle City Smokeaters Have Better Baseball Team Than Haverhill Laddies

Lowell Fire Department's baseball nine, contenders for the state championship, swamped the Haverhill department's aggregation in a loosely played game at the South common this morning. The final score, after two hours and forty minutes' play, was 24 to 7.

Lowell had things its own way from the start, piling up a five run lead in the opening inning, adding one run in each the second and fourth, and then scoring fifteen more in the sixth and one in the eighth.

Callahan pitched six innings for Lowell and except for the third had everything his own way. Currier, the first man up, was hit by a pitched ball. Myers connected for a base hit. Waitt did likewise as did Short and Reed. Symonds went in in the sixth and he likewise baffled the visitors.

Esterbrook opened up for the visitors and stayed until the sixth was well under way when Short relieved him. After walking three men he laid several down the groove and the local boys connected for a flock of hits. Waitt finally relieved Short and retired the home team after 15 batters had crossed the plate.

The score by innings:

Lowell	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	T
Haverhill	0	0	1	0	0	1	0	2	7	11
Lowell	5	1	1	0	15	0	1	2	24	41

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How to Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sour, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try taking acids all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Thousands of women suffer from headaches, backache, nervousness, mental depression and mysterious pains, who could find immediate relief by taking Lydia E. BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Ex-Senator Hoke Smith of Atlanta, Ga., and his second bride, who were married Wednesday night at New Rochelle, N. Y., arrived in Boston yesterday morning by boat from New York, and are guests at the Hotel Touraine. His father, Prof. N. C. Smith, was a native of New Hampshire, and an honor graduate of Bowdoin college. His first wife, who was Miss Birdie Cobb, daughter of Gen. T. R. Cobb of the confederate army, died five years ago.

His bride, who was Miss Marie Crawford, has been associated with him for a number of years as secretary in his law offices. She is a native of Tennessee, the daughter of Mrs. W. D. Wilson, who also attended the wedding, and whose husband is a cotton merchant and prominent citizen of Cordale, Ga. Mrs. Smith's father died when she was quite young. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will leave for Canada tonight, spending a few days in Montreal and Quebec. They will then go to the present in Washington, where the ex-senator has law office as well as in Atlanta, which is his native city and legal residence.

Piles

Can't Be Cured From the Outside. External treatments seldom cure Piles. Nor do surgical operations. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby. The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead. To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it. J. S. Leonard, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Green's Drug Store, which will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.—Adv.

KENWOOD HOSE CO. ENTERTAINS GUESTS

More than 200 guests were entertained by members of Kenwood Hose company last evening, the firemen's quarters being thrown open for the reception and banquet that followed. Many women and children were listed among the invited guests. The feast prepared for the firemen's friends included spare-ribs nicely cooked, sandwiches, corn on-cob, cucumbers, potatoes, cabbage and tomatoes ripe. Hot coffee went with the feast and Dracut all-fresh milk and cream.

The banquet tables were made attractive by the placing of large bouquets of gladioli, golden glows and asters on the white cloths. The flowers were donated by Mrs. James J. McManmon. The members of the entertainment committee, hustlers every one, were Capt. Charles Wallwork, Birge Caverly, A. Leblanc, Cornelius O'Leary, Frank Farrell and Walter Sweeney. The corps of chefs and waiters included William McManmon, Roy Vinal, William Juhinville, Arthur Pilote, Edward Rawlinson, J. L. McPherson, Napoleon Brien and Steve Delaney.

After the banquet, Capt. Wallwork spoke briefly, thanking neighbors and friends for their co-operation in making the social event successful. Mr. McManmon was the toastmaster. Before introducing leading citizens listed to say a few remarks, Mr. McManmon went into the history of the Kenwood Hose company briefly, and asked that the splendid co-operation always given to the organization by the people of that district of old Dracut in the past, be continued in the future.

Among the other speakers were Hon. Arthur W. Colburn, Edward Deane, Town Treasurer Sam G. Pillsbury, William Martin, Charles Snowman and Nelson E. Huntley.

Clams Not Taxidermists Used to Stuff Lowell's Elks at the Martin Luther Grounds

THE BIG CLAMBAKE STEAMING UP PREPARATORY TO FEEDING THE ANTLERED HERD FROM LOWELL, A FEW HUNGRY ELKS IN THE FOREGROUND

Back in the days of wampum and furs when Wampanoag, the big Indian chief, held full sway of the Merrimack valley, there was a wooded beauty spot in Tyngsboro where one could almost at any time find elks or Indians roaming around, enjoying nature's gifts and living on the fat of the land. Fruits and vegetables, roots and herbs within easy access in those days and the finest of fish in the historic river that lends so much to the enchantment of that spot.

Long ago most of the elks that were around in those days were either shot or just died and many were taken away somewhere or other to institutions and the like, and stuffed.

Well, reverse English was applied to that scheme of things yesterday and the woods around what is known as Martin Luther's in Tyngsboro was thick with Elks and Indians, most of them members of Lowell lodge, No. 87, B.P.O.E., and a few of them guests. All Elks and paradoxical as it may seem most of them Indians and wilder than Wampanoag ever thought his successors would be. Unlike the elks of long ago, the Elks went there yesterday to get stuffed and stuffed they were. Unlike their four-legged brethren of former years none of them got shot, not even near shot. Ice cream cones and sarsaparilla never had the same effect as how and arrow.

There were fruits and vegetables from the countryside, just as there were centuries ago, but as to fish from the river, well, the old Merrimack ain't what she used to be. No instead there were steamed clams, live broiled lobsters and everything that goes to make an A-1 clam bake. Plenty to eat, and what a job that hungry herd did with the victuals!

Unlike some of the elks, four legged, that are stuffed with hair and such down at the Elks home in Warren street, the Elks, bled, were stuffed with lobster, green corn, clams, ice cream and the like. The two-legged brothers sure went through that feed a lot faster than any of their four-legged friends ever went through the woods. After the feed some went home, but most of them loitered around, watched sports or talked in little groups or played pinocle or did something to while away the fleeting hours. The time passed so fast for some of the Elks that they didn't leave in time to be at Warren street for the toast at 11 o'clock.

With all this talk about elks and Elks, the real latter-days being distinguished by the capital E, it would seem the whole story ought to be written in capitals for, after all, it's about Elks and they had a capital time, legs or no legs, and that's no libel. From the deviltry that abounded around Martin Luther's yesterday, some of those good brothers ought to take the horns out of their coat lapels and wear them where nature meant them to be, even if it does hurt Eddie Rogers' business.

When the Fun Started

The fun started just at noon time, when the auto parade from the Warren street clubhouse arrived at the grounds, passing through the line of ticket takers headed by Fred Hammond and Chief Saunders. A buffet lunch was waiting at the pavilion and the first Elk stampede of the day started immediately. It was outclassed only by the main mill which marked the putting on of the big dinner into the afternoon. To see those hungry Elks go for the rations you could easily understand why those annual outings are always a tag—they think too much of their women folk to have them run the risk of being used for paying blocks in a pin grove.

The usual card of field events for handsome prizes kept everybody in the open for the first part of the day, the sack race, the hop, skip and jump and the fat men's race giving the boys plenty of fun and the pipe race, the 100-yards open and "me and you" race providing some real keen competition. Donk Dodge held the start-er's pistol and sent the competitors off in every event. Donk fired more rounds than it took Grant to capture Richmond but something, even if it wasn't a fence, moved every time as the sports-followers got plenty of action, even if it was dancing. Ask Bill Craig for details.

Sheriff Harry Walker from Cambridge, deputy down there and claimant to the title of biggest Elk in Middlesex county, was among those present. He was beaten for height at the outset, but won all laurels for avoidances and gentility. Jack Healey and Sam Toran were there early, golf wickets in everything. Dr. Drury and Sam Scott with their inevitable pipes. The two danger dogs, Martin and Moriarty, were walking around with John Moynahan, inspector of public buildings. John says he's only been on his new job a few months but he saw more bay windows yesterday than in all his time put together and he is going to have the building laws changed and permit less to the acre.

Mayor Donovan and City Solicitor Reynolds were right at hand but Bro. Moynahan thought they were too busy having a good time to discuss it yesterday.

The three assessors, John Dwyer, Jim Donnelly and Pate Achin were present strong. Jim, of course, is exalted ruler and went big as always. John Dwyer, ever conscientious, studied valuations all morning while the third brother took a census of the lobsters before the feed.

Secretary John Lee was around without his usual busy look. An outing committee handled this thing and let John off nicely. All enjoyment instead of work for John for a change.

Many Visitors Present
County Commissioner Bronson R. Barlow and Charles Slawey from Centralville, member of the house of representatives, were both present and they helped to get. There were two carloads of Newburyport Elks present, two machine loads from Concord, N. H., a carload each from Lawrence and Haverhill and the usual contingent of a score or more from Nashua.

Michael H. McCauley of Woburn, district deputy grand exalted ruler, bosom friend of Jimmie Donnelly and admired by every member of Lowell lodge, arrived late in the day. Mike wouldn't make a speech but he would smoke a cigar and eat an ice cream cone or two and give the latter part of the day renewing the many golden friendships he has in the Spindis City among its antlered herd.

Deputy Downey was out for a brief time in the morning, as was Sergt. Hugh McGuire. They had a bottle or two of pop, partook of the buffet lunch and joined in the general good time for an hour or more before starting homeward with reluctance.

Jack Campbell was kept busy with the dough-bag. If anybody thinks being committee treasurer at an Elks' outing is a sinecure they should see Jack before applying for the job. Bill Mahan, chairman of the committee, spent the morning at many duties and the afternoon at more. He was as busy as the proverbial one-armed paper hanger. Tom Atkinson helped.

James A. Parsons of Quincy lodge, secretary to Louis A. Coolidge, was in good company with Jack Healey and a bunch more that he went big with at the Boston and Pittsfield conventions of a short time ago. Cap Mahoney of the fire department with a delegation including Jimmie MacReady who is going to the Legion convention at St. Paul next month if Bill Brace doesn't see him first and even up for the lobster he stole.

Barney Gilmore came over the river from Silesia and John Salmon forgot all about fire, water and imperfect paving for the whole day. John Hoban and Reggie McGuire went big together as usual.

Jim Thompson, who presides over the soda dispensing, was present in all the glory of the day. Jim was cool and competent as ever despite the rush and although he wore out two bottle openers on the grape, sass and root beer, saw everybody was served. Barney Callahan went through as many motions as Jim did, but the boys all claim he didn't get as much done. Eddie Cushing kept the tally and will settle the lie by bringing his pencil out to the next outing.

Mayor Curley of Boston—James Michael the Magnificent—graced the occasion with his presence and was given a genuine ovation. Jim made a speech in which he said he'll come out of Hoplon leading for governor by 125,000 votes and if Lowell comes through he'll win.

Henry F. Sullivan, conqueror of the English channel and honorary life member of Lowell lodge was one of the main figures at the outing, receiving congratulations at every hand for his great swim in Long Island Sound when he set a new 10-mile mark a week or so ago.

The married men beat the single men in the ball game, the score being somewhere near 3 to 2. Phiney Boyle, handled by Jack Leahy, showed his stuff, boxing Tip Quinn, Tom Leonard and another youngster each three rounds and finishing as fresh as a new laid egg. That's a hard-boiled fact.

Mayor Curley Introduced

Mayor Curley of Boston was introduced by Exalted Ruler Donnelly and in response to cries for a speech mounted a table in the center of the baseball field. As the six hundred or so of Elks present crowded about the mayor of the Hub spoke strongly for John W. Davis for president and drew a vivid man-to-man comparison of the democratic standard bearer and the present president, "the idol of New England."

The distinguished visitor prepared to step down from the table without so much as mentioning his own candidacy, but answered to calls of "Now talk for yourself, Jim."

"I've been coming to Lowell for 25 years now," said the Boston mayor, "talking for the candidacy of somebody else for something. This time I'm going to talk of my own candidacy reminding you that despite the great republican machine against me and despite the almost continuous opposition of a united press in Boston, I've left my case in the hands of the people and 24 times out of 25 the verdicts of the voters have been for James M. Curley."

"Boys, I don't care if Jackson or Fuller gets the republican nomination. I'll lead either one of those whipsnappers out of Boston with a clean 125,000. Give me half a chance in Lowell and I'll be your next governor."

Citing the fact that under republican rule Massachusetts is slipping in industry and commerce the Boston mayor pledged himself to bolster up industry, to restore life and to promote industrial welfare.

He took occasion to comment on the attitude of the board of public utilities on gas price raises and telephone tariff increases, saying "I'll clean out the board of public utilities within 24 hours after I go into office. This statement met with prolonged applause."

Charging that insane asylums are crowded to the doors with patients compelled to sleep in corridors, the Boston mayor attacked the commission for the blind for closing the workshops of blind folks and making them paupers, saying "I'll fire that commission the minute that I'm sworn into office."

"I want to go out of Lowell with the biggest vote a democrat ever received here" was his closing appeal.

"If you give it to me between Lowell and Boston I'm sure to go in and I'll serve as your governor with the same fidelity, zeal and intelligence that has marked my stewardship as mayor of the city of Boston. The opening of the Curley speech follows:

"In considering the national election it is becoming increasingly apparent each day that the loss sustained by the republican party in the death of United States Senator LeBaron B. Colt, of Rhode Island, may prove a most important factor in the determination of a choice by the American electorate."

"The state of Rhode Island will unquestionably return a democratic United States senator to fill the position formerly held by Judge Colt. In that event a coalition of democrats and such republicans as Shapard and Magnus Johnson, will be in a position to determine who shall fill the position of president in the event of the failure of the candidate of either party receiving a majority of the votes of the electoral college."

Party's Sole Asset

"The sole asset of the republican party in the present election is the character of its candidate for the office of president. Apparently it is the purpose of the republican leaders to ignore and fail to defend a record of waste, corruption and criminality unequalled in any four-year term in the history of our government."

"The public, however, in each state where an election has been held, have considered the lack of the republican party and have answered by electing democrats; and in all probability a similar course will be pursued in the coming election. The remembrance of corruption in Teapot Dome, the vicious disclosures of the graft in the veterans' bureau; the collusion between cabinet officers and bootleggers, in the sale of whiskey permits; the brutal treatment of the veterans of the Grand Army and their dependents, in the vote of the Bureau bill; the callous disregard for the welfare of postal employees and their families, in the matter of wage increases; accounts in no small measure for the abandonment of the republican party by the republican senator, La Follette, and his associates."

"In view of the political change which has resulted in states which gave a republican majority in 1920, it is interesting to learn the probable attitude of the business men of America in the coming election."

"Oklahoma in 1922 elected a democratic governor; Montana in the same year elected a democratic senator; Wyoming elected a democratic governor in 1922, in addition to electing Senator Kendrick, who defeated Frank children primarily, and about 2000 were present when the curtain opened at 2 o'clock. The evening performance was open to adults and children accompanied by adults, and it was estimated that a similar number was in attendance then.

Harvey B. Greene, member of the park commission, welcomed the audience at the evening performance and briefly told of the work of the playground supervisors in teaching the children, during the summer months, healthy games and the American ideal of sportsmanship. He then introduced the mayor, who extended to the park department and the playground supervisors his compliments for their work in caring for the children during the summer months.

On the stage, a toy shop window occupied the entire background and in this window were represented by playground children, several types of dolls. To this window comes a little girl, played by Sadie Gervelluk, who goes upon the dolls with interest and then falls asleep. To her side dances a fairy queen, Helen Dudgey, who touches her with a magic wand and bids her enter into doll land. Then the fairy brings onto the stage various types of dolls who entertain the visitor with dances.

Dolls of all types are represented by children of the various playgrounds, dressed in fitting costumes, and each group entertained with fitting dances.

It would be impossible to choose any one of the numbers as outstanding, every one was good and the work of the children reflected great credit upon the supervisors who had charge of the program.

There were harlequin dolls, nurse dolls, rag dolls, negro dolls, Indian dolls, sailor dolls and every other kind of a doll that one could think of, dancing before the large audience.

The comedy dolls, such as the harlequin, negro and rag dolls, were so amusing that laughter was their applause from the time they started until they danced off the stage.

The costumes were exceptionally good. There were no programs issued and they were not necessary, as the costumes plainly showed what the number represented.

The program was given under the general direction of Superintendent John W. Kernan of the park department, Arthur C. Sullivan, head supervisor of playgrounds and Miss Mary A. Dowd, director. Assisting in the work were supervisors from each of the playgrounds.

The costumes were designed by playground supervisors and were made by playground sewing classes under the direction of the school department, sewing teachers who had charge of the classes.

SECOND COMPLAINT AGAINST MANOUSOS

A second complaint growing out of the alleged Dracut hold-up and robbery of last Tuesday night, has been preferred against James Manousos, one of the suspects. He gave himself up last night on a warrant charging him with threatening Louis Badi, and was released in $500 bonds until Sept. 4. Badi was one of the occupants of the machine which was stopped by masked men near Lakeview.

Yesterday, Manousos was in district court and pleaded not guilty to two counts of robbery. He was released in $2000 bail until Sept. 4.

Y. W. C. A. CAMP WILL CLOSE TUESDAY

After a most successful and enjoyable season during which time the camp was filled to capacity with girls, the Y.W.C.A. camp at Long-Sought-for Pond will close on Tuesday next, a special program being carried out at the closing exercises.

Miss Mildred Martins, director of the camp, assisted by Miss Dorothy Flemmings, swimming instructor, and Mr. and Mrs. Kidder, caretaker and cook respectively, have given the girls their personal attention during the season and it is with reluctance that the campers are now preparing to leave.

A varied and interesting program, including educational and recreational studies was offered the girls and points awarded for those receiving a passing mark. Among the classes taught at the camp was a class in wax work and the girls have accomplished a great deal along this line.

The camp this year consists of two main houses and several portables, all of which were filled to capacity at all times. Week-end parties, however, will be conducted until the cooler weather, and those who wish to attend are at liberty to do so.

Among the many camp requisites for which points were awarded are: Camp spirit in general; cleanliness, both self and cabin; handicrafts including studies, both educational and religious and first aid. The girls are also urged to qualify in hiking, swimming and rowing, and for excellence in these arts they are awarded points.

On Sunday mornings, religious services are held followed by the awarding of points for the week. Improving programs are also carried on in the evenings at which time musical, dance and gymnastic numbers are given by the girls.

The program this year was most beneficial to all and the girls proved very genial and helpful, at all times being ready to assist one another and to make camp life as pleasant as possible. The motto lived up to this season was: "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed."

A large number of visitors is expected over the week-end and the girls are preparing a special entertainment program which will, without a doubt, greatly please their visitors.

The speed of a carrier pigeon in calm weather is 1200 yards a minute.

peoted over the week-end and the girls are preparing a special entertainment program which will, without a doubt, greatly please their visitors.

SWEPT TO SEA, LUCK
SAVED TWO BOYS

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—By one of those caprices of fate which come once in a thousand years, Spellman Nawn and Lewis James, Cohasset youngsters who were swept to sea in a disabled sailing skiff Wednesday morning, drifted under the lee of the Boston Lightship—and were saved.

And the big thing about it all to them was this: that they no longer were hauled aboard, after hours of desperate labor to keep their light craft afloat on the wild seas, then they were each served a big wedge of blueberry pie.

Pie Makes Big Hit
"Blueberry pie, away out there!" the Nawn boy exclaimed when he got home. "I never was so surprised in my life."

Ashore, the amazement at the rescue of the youngsters had not died down last night. News that they were safe came yesterday forenoon, and a life saving boat brought them in from the big lightship.

They had drifted 10 miles, after their sail went by the board in a squall, which laid the light skiff over flat on its side. There were no oars, and they took turns paddling, hopelessly and uselessly, with a board they found in the bottom of their cockle-shell.

Lewis bated with his straw hat until it fell apart. Then he tried to make a bag of his shirt, and used that.

"We took turns," Spellman said. He is 13 years old, and has a shock of sandy hair and a scattering of freckles. "I was pretty tired. We couldn't steer much with that rudder, cause we didn't have any sail and couldn't hoist a shirt—the halyards were snarled in the pulleys."

"We left Cohasset cove about 10 o'clock in the morning. Off Kimball's beach the wind gusted up and flopped us on our side, and the sail went. We drifted from there. It was 4 o'clock in the afternoon when we looked up and found ourselves drifting under the lee of the lightship."

"We were kind of dizzy by that time, and were lying down, one in the bow and one in the stern. Gosh, I was hungry!"

"We hollered like everything, and pretty soon one of the men on the lightship stuck his head over the rail and looked at us. Gosh, he was surprised!"

Two Meals in Hour
"He threw us a line, though, and we made it fast. Then he dropped a rope over and hauled us over the side."

"What happened then?" the reporter asked gravely.

"Blueberry pie!" shouted Spellman, and he rolled his eyes on recollecting it. "We had blueberry pie, away out there on Boston lightship. Now, how in the O! Harry do they get blueberry pie out there?"

"We had coffee and biscuits, too. That was at 4 o'clock. We had supper with the men at 5 o'clock."

"What—did you eat again, at 5 o'clock?"

"Sure! We had beans and corned beef and biscuits and tea at 5 o'clock. After supper they showed us over the ship. Then I played a couple of games of checkers with one of the men. He beat one game and I beat one."

Spellman's father, George Nawn, was asked if the boy was glad to get home.

"Was he?" that parent repeated. "I'll bet he cried for half an hour, he was so glad to get home. And, gosh, I guess most of us cried with him."

"But he can't get over having blueberry pie on Boston lightship. I wish you'd explain it to him. I have done my best!"

DAVIS RIDDLES G. O. P. CLAIMS

In his speech at Columbus, Ohio, Hon. John W. Davis dealt with campaign issues in a more direct, candid and incisive manner than in his formal addresses at Clarksburg, Va., and Sea Girt, N. J. He has begun to attack the republican administration of the past four years in its most vulnerable points; and the assault at Columbus resembled the bombardment of an open and undefended city by heavy artillery. Mr. Davis is a wonderfully able campaigner and yet in the severest blows dealt in his review of the republican administration, he presented only the facts already known throughout the land.

His first principle for bringing about the necessary improvement in government affairs is to put honest men in office and then see that they stay honest. In his speech of acceptance he promised an administration of common justice, common honesty and common courage; and at Columbus he showed by the inexorable logic of facts, that these qualities were all lacking in the administration of the republican party which now seeks refection in power for the next four years. He also showed that capacity for statesmanship and effective leadership were conspicuously lacking in the republican regime.

He cited the quasi-apologetic tone in which President Coolidge in his speech of acceptance said that when officials had been charged with wrong doing, "I have caused them to be investigated and presentations made to the grand jury." In contrast with that tardy and reluctant policy, he cited the action of President Roosevelt who under similar circumstances said, "No man will raise the cry of 'turn the rascals out' against me, because I consider it my business to detect and turn them out myself." The hesitancy shown by the president in the face of revelations of corruption against Daugherty, Denby and Forbes was further compared to the dilatory course of Franklin Pierce in joining the movement to have the state of New Hampshire cast its lot with the north in the struggle which preceded the Civil war. When the decision of Mr. Pierce came, it was pronounced "late, reluctant and unimportant."

So Mr. Davis went through the record of the administration in its empty claims for credit in having formal treaties with several nations ratified following the war, the doubtful value of the boasted armament conference under which we were to scrap certain battleships and accept the 5-5-3 ratio for England, the United States and Japan respectively; and as a result we have already fallen to the ratio of 5-4-3 under the present naval management. He further asserted that this four-part treaty made it impossible for us to defend the Philippines if we wish to keep them. Mr. Davis took occasion to say that he did not for a moment question the honesty of President Coolidge, but he asked of what value are the promises of a party divided so that it cannot carry out its pledges to the people.

The arraignment of the administration for its misuse of the $40,000,000 provided for the disabled veterans was particularly severe; and it was shown that after eighteen months the bureau had provided only 200 additional hospital beds despite the large expenditure. In the matter of the Dawes report, Mr. Davis showed the weak, spineless and vacillating policy of the administration repudiating any responsibility for the report in the first place and now claiming credit for having named the experts to set on the committee which framed the report although the whole credit is unjustly being given to General Dawes.

Mr. Davis has shown such an intimate knowledge of the inside workings of the administration that his speeches have a freshness and convincing force that command respect and stir enthusiasm wherever heard. If he can keep up the pace during the campaign, he will assuredly riddle the false claims of the republican leaders as quickly as they are presented. The political bubbles upon which they have set out to conduct their campaign have already been largely punctured and the campaign is only in the initial stage. The progress of the democratic cause thus far points unmistakably to a democratic victory in November. Already the state of Ohio is turning to the democratic party. Davis is teaching the people to see straight in matters political and if he can get his views on the issues of the hour, communicated to the people throughout the nation, there will be no doubt as to his election.

COOLIDGE CAMPAIGN FEATURE

With the hope of boosting the Coolidge candidacy, republican campaigners are to supply a novel feature in a cross country tour by a caravan bearing a number of prominent campaign speakers who will deliver addresses at the more important points on the way. Heading the procession will be a big motor truck bearing a reproduction of the president's birthplace at Plymouth, Vt., and as the expedition will follow the Lincoln highway, it will be called the Coolidge-Dawes-Lincoln tour.

Congressman Tilson of Connecticut and Secretary Sleep are the originators of this idea, which will be carried out with the president's approval while he will remain at his office at Washington.

There is here an evident attempt to link the name of Lincoln with that of Coolidge and Dawes, and doubtless the campaigners will make the most of this idea, as they proceed from Vermont through the states in which the republican cause needs immediate buttressing. This move is doubtless intended to offset the western tour of Hon. John W. Davis; but it is not likely to interfere to any great extent with the success of the Davis tour. It is intended to appeal chiefly to the farmers with whom, despite his posing as the son of a farmer, the president is not at all popular.

THE HOUSING PROBLEM

Several of the local building associations, notably the Highlands Realty Associates and the Belvidere Building Associates, are doing good work toward the solution of the housing problem which is no longer acute in this city.

New buildings equipped with all the more recent conveniences and a ready sale at prices that are fully double what such structures sold for some ten or a dozen years ago.

It had been supposed that the prices of real estate would gradually show a reduction; but the change, if any, thus far is hardly discernible. Some weeks ago it was announced that there was a reduction in the cost of building materials; and while there was a slight reduction, it was not sufficient to make any great difference in the general cost of building operations.

There is a prospect that building construction will be continued to a greater extent into cold weather this year than formerly. A number of new dwellings that have just been closed in, will not be finished until the late fall, and even now some new buildings are not more than well started. It is quite likely that Secretary Hoover's advice will be followed at least by some contractors in carrying building construction through the winter.

SEEN AND HEARD

"Doc," Bartlett says autos started about 30 years ago and some of them look it.

Again Jack Brennan comes to the fore with the statement that of the 6000 matches lighted every second in the United States, 4000 are borrowed.

Harry disappointed friends to whom he promised asparagus and now he is offering cucumbers as a substitute. Nothing doing, Harry!

Ernest Chambers allows that water wouldn't be cursed so much if more of it would stay out of milk and gasoline.

John Maloney says they should call Vermont the marble, rather than the Green Mountain state. He is just back from a trip to Proctor where he was lost for five hours in a marble quarry.

A Thought

Nature designed us to be of good cheer.—Douglas Jerrold.

Coming Champions

The caddy had watched the woman player for some time. Her club flew out of her hand at each stroke. "I can see you becoming a champion soon," he said. "O, do you really think so?" she beamed. "Yes, ma'am. At throwin' the hammer."

Why Pick On Me?

A Weary Willie called at an office the other day. "Can't give you a job," said the merchant. "Two other men are on the same errand," just then another man came in and said to the merchant: "I can find work for one of these men." Then, pointing to the last comer, he said: "You come along with me and I'll find something to do." In palmed and surprised tones, Weary Willie inquired: "Why me?"

Calendar Cook

It seemed to the commuter, impatiently awaiting his breakfast, that the eggs were taking ages to come to a boil. He stepped softly to the kitchen door and took a peep. Apparently lost in thought, the culinary artist was gazing at an advertising poster, which adorned the kitchen wall. "Gee whizz," murmured the suburbanite to himself as he stole back, "this here cook lady cooks by the calendar."

Afraid of Electricity

The lordling has just arrived at the tiny North coast inn, and John Evans Jones, the porter, had dragged from the guard's van a store of luggage, which included several portmanteaux, a camera, fishing and golf tackle and a particularly ferocious bulldog. "Aw, porrah," commanded his lordship, "just put away my portmanteaux, camera, fishing and golf tackle." John Evans Jones surveyed the bulldog dubiously. "Yes, sir," he said slowly. "Er—the electrician won't bite will he sir?"

Knockout Withdrawal

During the course of a trial a small but aggressive lawyer, having many of the epithets at his disposal on the other side. And many times counsel started at him with right arm drawn back. But he always escaped punishment for the insult by bawling: "I withdraw it." Finally, however, he was too slow, the impending blow landed, and the gentleman kissed the carpet. The attorney with the good right arm was then called to account. "You should not have struck that blow," declared the judge sternly. "I know it, your honor. I withdraw it."

Same Old Car

Playwright Avery Hopwood was talking about the hard times in the movie trade. "Your movie actor," he said, "isn't as spruce as he used to be. Two movie actors met the other day in a cafeteria. 'You didn't keep that engagement of ours for last Thursday a week,' said the first actor. 'Have you any excuse to offer me this time?' 'I didn't make any engagement for last Thursday a week,' said the second actor. 'You did!' said the first. 'You wrote it on your cuff.' The second actor glanced down at his cuff. Then he said: 'Right you are, George. I apologize.'—Los Angeles Times.

Friends

It is not so much in the seeming. To be friends, that counts always. Or the hubbub of love that glister. On the surface of friendship's ray, it's the friend who can give, and the friend who can take.

"Mind this daily and flow: It's the friend who is there, when the clouds burst break."

And the tide of joy seems low. It is not so much in the seeming. To be good and kind and true; And the friend who is there, when the clouds burst break.

It is not so much in the seeming. To be big, and great and grand; When suddenly we encounter. A friend in some stranger land.

It's just to feel, that our friendship's bond, Without, one sign of show. That will make him long, mid the gayest throng.

For the friends of long ago. It is not so much in the seeming. To be ever so glad or gay; When the friends are suddenly. Or never comes our way.

It's the calm, sweet smile of some contented face. When the heart is due to break— That makes men strong, when the way seems long.

And bids their souls awake! ELIA A. REILLY, 15 Cross street.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

It seems that several people attending the ball games on the South common have been unfavorably cited by ill luck. Persons who drop articles of clothing or money while seated on the bleachers find that they are soon picked up and there is no effort made to find the owner. Children who, it seems, are taught to pick up anything that is dropped there, are constantly being rebuked by the police. Upon the lost articles. While attending a ball game this week I learned that a lady had dropped a scarf beneath the bleachers and on looking beneath, the article had completely disappeared. It might be a good idea to have the police officer who attends the games take an occasional trip around the bleachers and warn the youngsters against picking up articles even before they are lost.

LOWELL BOYS CAPTURE PRIZES AT DEVENS

Several Lowell boys captured prizes by winning "place honors" in various athletic contests, conducted on Wednesday last at the citizens' military training field, Camp Devens. The final track and field competitions were thrilling enough to suit followers of professional meets. Not until the last two events was the most decided. The honors were carried off by members of the third battalion of infantry with the bare margin of four points.

Lowell citizen soldiers, grouped in the winners' column as follows: Francis L. Saunders finished third in the 120-yard hurdles; Whitman Pearson captured second place in the one-mile run; P. R. Whitworth, third place in the 400-yard dash.

In the last of the best road course students, John J. Brennan of Company 1, 1st battalion, infantry, and B. D. Burge of the engineers, both of Lowell, started.

Durwin post is planning a tree-planting crusade at which time it will plant memorial trees along the river front in memory of the heroes of that city. The "Ivants" club of Nashville, Tenn., is also in the campaign, as well as other prominent organizations throughout the country. The plan seems to be the favorite species, although the black locust is favorable for narrow streets. The Norway maple is one of the handsomest trees for open lawn adornment while the pine is left out of the program entirely because of the unsuitability of the winter shade.

The Merrimack river from Pawtucket falls to Hitt's falls is, in the opinion of Agent O'Hare of the board of health, a good place, not to go swimming. Despite the warning issued from his office in connection with the unhealthy condition of the water and attempts of the police to prohibit bathing between the Aiken and Central bridges, Mr. O'Hare is of the opinion that many boys will go swimming there just as they always have. There is an absolute danger in swimming in the river in the prohibited areas, says Mr. O'Hare, and that danger is the dread disease typhoid fever. If parents of boys who frequent the river in the prohibited section would impress upon them now how bad the effects of this disease are, then Mr. O'Hare feels the boys would not go "within a mile of the place."

An interesting article relative to the physical equipment of a child of 6 years of age should have been printed in Health News for August in which Dr. Borden S. Veeder, child specialist of St. Louis says: "Unless the child has had a thorough physical examination including his general nutrition, eyes, teeth, hearing, lungs and tonsils and condition of his mucous membranes and unless steps have been taken to correct the defects found, the child is not ready to enter school." A boy six years old, 40 inches high, should weigh 36 pounds, while a girl of the same height should weigh 25 pounds. A boy 45 inches in height should weigh 45 pounds and a girl 47. Mothers can learn much of the general condition of her child by checking up on the height and weight. "The great bugbear of the first year or two in school is the frequency with which colds and other infectious diseases are contracted," he says. "Next at the very beginning of a cold or infection will do much to restore the health and in cases where the slightest indication of fever is apparent the child should not be allowed to go to school."

OVER HILL OVER DALE

From "A Midsummer Night's Dream"

Over hill, over dale,
Thorough bush, thorough brier,
Over park, over pale,
Thorough flood, thorough fire,
I do wander everywhere,
Swifter than the moon's sphere,
And I serve the fairy queen,
To dew her orbs upon the green.
The cowslips tall her pensioners be!
In their gold coats spots you see;
Those be rubies, fairy favors,
In these freckles live their savors,
I must go seek some dewdrops here,
And hang a pearl in every cowslip's ear.

Sketching

Hal Cochran's DAILY POEM

When you sit by a phone with a pencil in hand, it is funny what queer things you'll draw. Just markings that none can quite understand; just lines that will perpetrate awe. Your mind's on your talking; your hand is at ease; it pushes a pencil around. 'Twill scribble and sketch just what ever it please. When you're through, what queer markings are found.

A white piece of paper lies there by the phone and you use it to greatest extent. Just why you are sketching 'twill never be known, but on sketching you're leisurely bent.

Some telephone numbers are written out plain; you don't even know whose they be. The writing you do is just written in vain; my advice, if you leave it to me—

Is, go on do your sketching in telephone booths. There's no one who really can scoff. For when you have finished, the next man, forsooth, will pick up right where you left off.

THREE SHOT IN "DOPE" RAID

Two Alleged Narcotic Peddlers and Federal Agent Shot at New Haven

Eight Men Arrested in Most Extensive Raid Ever Made in New England

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 28.—Two alleged narcotic peddlers and a federal narcotic agent were shot and injured, one of the former seriously, in raids by a squad of federal officers in charge of W. D. Allen, Jr., chief narcotic agent for New England, in this city last night and early today, after the agents had purchased quantities of morphine and heroin said to be valued at several thousand dollars, from the men. Officers said the raids were the most extensive yet made in New England.

Fred Clogere, one of the alleged peddlers, is in the hospital with a bullet in the leg and the other, Mike Costello, also at the hospital, has a bullet in the back of his neck which entered one side of his face and severed the end of his tongue. The narcotic agent who has a bullet in the wrist is Joseph W. Gaultier of Boston. An unknown man, believed to have shot Gaultier, made his escape.

Four others, including a taxi driver who is alleged to have delivered the drug to the billiard parlor of V. Mauro, are held in custody. Two other men from whom the officers claim to have purchased narcotics by arrangement, were arrested in a lunchroom near the local railroad station.

The shooting occurred at the Mauro billiard room. After the purchase of the narcotics there officers said two shots were fired from a window as a signal to a squad of officers in waiting outside. At hearing the shots one of the alleged peddlers started to flee, firing at the officers, who returned the shots.

The eight men held all reside in this city.

HOPE OF QUELLING FEUD

Officials Act Following Kidnaping of Lawyer at Bishop, California

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 28.—Hope of quelling the Owens valley water rights feud, which flared up anew Wednesday night in the kidnaping at Bishop of L. C. Hall, attorney, accused by his fellow townsmen of aiding Los Angeles to acquire water rights in the valley, rested today in the scheduled visit to the trouble zone next Tuesday of members of the public service commission.

The commissioners will meet with ranchers and merchants, who objected to the city's methods of acquiring valley water rights and will endeavor to remove the cause of the ill-feeling which is believed responsible not only for the kidnaping of Hall, but for the dynamiting of a section of the Los Angeles aqueduct last May.

Hall was kidnaped by a crowd of men who took him several miles from town and warned him not to return

FUNERALS OF HERO PRIESTS TOMORROW

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—The funerals of the Rev. Thomas F. Keahane and the Rev. William J. Chittick, the two young priests who were drowned at Marshfield Wednesday, (trying to save a life, will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The plans for the funerals were announced yesterday by Cardinal O'Connell.

The services for Father Keahane will be held in St. Patrick's church, Roxbury. Those for Father Chittick will be held in St. Eulalia's church, South Boston. The bodies will lie in state in the respective churches after 3 o'clock this evening.

At Father Keahane's funeral, the Rev. William B. Foley of St. Vincent's church, South Boston, will officiate. At Father Chittick's funeral, the Rev. P. Francis Foley of St. Ann's church, Neponset, will officiate. At both services musical accompaniment will be by the priest's choir of the diocese, half at one church and half at the other.

The Rev. David F. Regan, pastor of St. Ann's church in Revere, will preach the eulogy at Father Keahane's funeral. The Rev. Peter J. Conlon of St. Bridget's church, Lexington, will preach the eulogy at Father Chittick's funeral.

In assigning priests to the two services, Cardinal O'Connell chose classmates and close friends of the deceased.

MAYOR CURLEY DENIES PERMIT TO BUS CO.

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—The two jitney permits of the Boston Bus Transportation company to run lines on Center street and Walpole avenue, Roxbury were vetoed yesterday by Mayor Curley, immediately after he approved the permit of the Boston Elevated to operate a line on the Center street route.

To the petitioners of the Boston Bus Transportation company he wrote, "In view of the fact that the Elevated will give free transfers, the granting of your license would not improve transportation in the Roxbury district."

The permits of both companies were passed by the city council at their last regular session. At that time it was generally predicted that the permit of the Boston Bus Transportation company would be vetoed because of the belief that there was no sufficient business on the Center street line for competition and that the Elevated could provide better service.

Connell, chairman of the republican committee on notification of President Coolidge that he had been nominated for the office of president of the United States. In Utah a democratic senator was elected in 1922; in Colorado a democratic governor was elected in 1922; while Washington, Oregon and Arizona were all carried by the democrats in 1922.

Rhode Island elected a democratic governor, as did New Hampshire; and it is reasonably certain that both of these states can be safely counted as democratic in the coming national election. Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota, and Arizona, may be reasonably credited to Senator La Follette. The improbability of electing Calvin Coolidge as president must necessarily be apparent to every student of current American politics. The eleven southern and two border states, which it is generally considered will be carried by Davis, represent 147 votes, the eight votes of Maryland making 155. Conditions in Indiana make reasonably certain democratic success there, and her 15 votes with Nebraska's eight and Missouri's 13, make the count 196. New Hampshire and Rhode Island, nine votes, Nevada, Oklahoma 10, Arizona 3, New Mexico 3, Delaware 3 and, with New York and New Jersey 59, make a total of 268. Allowing the votes of Arizona, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, and Montana; to La Follette, gives him a total of 39 votes; with President Coolidge receiving 203 votes.

Industrial Stability

"The danger to the industrial stability of America that might result through the throwing of the election into the United States senate and the possible selection by that body of Charles W. Bryan, will unquestionably be an important factor in the political decision of the business of America. The period of uncertainty and depression which has resulted in part from employment for millions of workers in America in manufacturing lines, and which apparently is not gradually changing, must not be permitted to return. It is for the American people to determine whether their fealty to a party tag is of greater moment than their interest in the welfare of the American government and the American people."

"From the standpoint of personal honesty John W. Davis is unquestionably the equal of President Coolidge; from the standpoint of ability as an attorney, the judgment of the former republican president, William Howard Taft, that in his opinion John W. Davis is the ablest lawyer in America today is sufficient. From the standpoint of experience in legislation and the ability to discharge the duties of a most exacting and responsible position John W. Davis has measured up in an exceptional manner and brings an assurance of that greatest of business assets—national confidence."

"Fortunately, there is ample time between now and the fifth day of November for the citizenship of America to investigate, to weigh the facts and determine a course of action. While it is true that Senator La Follette does not possess the commanding leadership and magnetism of Theodore Roosevelt, it is nevertheless equally true that the present political upheaval is only within the ranks of the republican party; and the democracy of the nation, preventing a united front and a candidate whom the honest business interests of America can support without fear of reprisals, and the workers of America can vote for with conviction that they will receive justice, can make the election of John W. Davis, a triumphant success."

SENSATIONAL RALLY IN EIGHTH GIVES SENATORS GAME AND TOP RUNG

With Score 6 to 3 Against Them Harris Gang Open Up Barrage and Land in Front 11 to 6—Babe Ruth Makes Two Homers

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The Washington Senators are on top at last, leading their league a half game to the fore of the Yankees who dropped to second place, going down to defeat in the first game of the series with the Pirates, 11-5.

With the Yankees leading 6 to 3 at the beginning of the eighth inning, the Senators scored secured for the "hosts of Huggins," and then came the barrage. Two Washington batters, safely and Jack Bennett, were called from the hill by the manager, and the Senators rushed to the rescue but to no avail. Pecknappaugh, next man grounded out to Scott, and one Washington run scored. Liebold batted for Russell and walked. McNelly snatched one to right field, killing the bases. Harris singled onto a Dugan, who fumbled, and another run scored. With the bases still crowded, and the winning run on base, Huggins replaced Gaston with Sam Jones, who made it two out when Liebold was forced at the plate. At this point, it only for a moment, far Gossin, the next man up lifted one to Witt that Whitely lost in the sun, three runs scoring. Liebold batted for Pecknappaugh all hit safely in order and three more runs crossed the plate. The inning ended when Marquis, who had hit by this time, retired Liebold for the final out. Marberry, who went in to pitch the last two innings for the Senators, turned back the Yankees without a score.

Babe Ruth hit two homers in the game and passed his 1923 home run record when he hit his forty-second.

TONIGHT'S GAME

Mysteries vs. Victorias.

In a fast, close game, the Emeralds defeated the Iroquois 6 to 3 on Thursday night last evening. The North Cambridge and Iroquois are now tied for fourth place in the Junior Twi League.

Because of illness, Vengados, who was scheduled to pitch for the Emeralds, was unable to start the game and Normandin was forced to substitute for him. The winners had first chance at bat but were unable to score a point. However, the Iroquois were more fortunate and they collected a run. The second frame was barren for both teams, but in the third section the Iroquois pitcher was hit by a rocket and a total of five valuable tallies came to Manager Gaudier's favorites. Four hits were scored from the losers for a grand total of five runs. Normandin pitched a cover, as a three-hitter. The Iroquois scored but one run.

The Emeralds scored their last run in the first of the fourth. The Iroquois then scored a run in the fourth. Left on bases, Iroquois 7, Emeralds 4. A base on balls, Ed Normandin; off Ducharme 2. Struck out: By Normandin 1; by Ducharme 6. Hit by pitcher: Lamb (by Ducharme); Ducharme (by Normandin). Umpires: Flanagan and Bennett. Time: 1:15.

The Pirates are now five games to the rear of the Giants who were not scheduled to play today. Brooklyn tied place rested and gained a half game on the Pittsburgh crew thereby, and are now two games behind the Pirates and seven games back of New York.

Cubs and Phillies Win Two

Avareicious baseball fans in this section of the commonwealth will have their diamond appetites well satiated over the present week-end. Perhaps the most magnetic attraction on the card is the game between the Abbot Worsters and North Cambridge, which will be staged in Graniteville this evening.

All roads will lead to the suburb for the start at 5:30 o'clock as Abbot Worsters and the Cantabs are occupying the calcium in the Greater Boston Twi League race just now. Fighting a nip and tuck race for the coveted pennant, the Abbot Worsters and North Cambridge have provided unprecedented excitement in Massachusetts baseball.

St. Bernard's followers died North Cambridge at 17 games won and four lost when they defeated the Lynn Cornetts in the play-off at a protested game last Wednesday night at Lynn. So the Abbot Worsters and North Cambridge are in the second half of the season. The Abbot Worsters are the team to watch in the latter's home grounds. The Cantabs will come this way tonight led by loquacious Dan Leahy. The second half of the season will be staged at Russell field, North Cambridge, tomorrow afternoon.

DIXONS HAVE THREE GAMES ON SCHEDULE

"You can tell the world The Sun is a great advertising medium," said Bert Dixon, live wire manager of the Dixon Shoe Fix ball team, this morning, in commenting on an item that appeared in the sports page yesterday, stating that the Dioxons will have a game for Saturday afternoon.

"Believe me," continued Bert, "I sat near the telephone in my shop for an hour answering calls relative to a game. I thought everybody in Lowell would call before the evening was over. As a result, my team is booked up for a very busy week-end."

On Saturday afternoon the Dioxons will go to Pelham Center to play the famous Pelham team, which has lost but one game this season. ## Youngsters Give Pirates New Life

Look Out for the Pittsburgh Pirates

Five recruits have transformed the club into a pennant contender.

Manager Bill McKechnie may not win the National League pennant with his Buccaneers, but he is going to make the race decidedly interesting.

At present, the New York Giants are the cause.

In the spring, prior to the opening of the season, in denying out the chances of the National League clubs, I leaned strongly to the Pirates. I picked Pittsburgh as the one team with a great chance to make trouble for the Giants.

During the first two months of the race the Pirates made me feel as if I didn't know a single thing about baseball. When the pitchers worked well the batters didn't hit and vice versa. The club lacked consistency, simply couldn't win with regularity.

Perhaps too late, the Pirates have struck their jinx, are playing the ball the team is capable of, and moving New York hard, despite the big lead gained by the Giants while Pittsburgh was floundering about.

Five Chancy Recruits

In the line showing of the Pittsburgh club the work of five recruits stands out prominently. Usually it is a club's fortune enough to have a couple of recruits develop into regulars. It is satisfied that five recruits, Wright, Cuyler, Yde, Moore and Kremer, have delivered for the Pirates.

While the great hitting of Outfielder Cuyler, the fine work of Moore when substituting for Traynor at third, and the excellent pitching of Yde and Kremer have helped greatly, the acquisition of Shortstop Wright has done much to make the Pirates a strong pennant possibility.

Seldom has a club, lacking a brilliant shortstop, won a pennant. A base is most essential to success.

Wright has made good the fine things said about his fielding ability. He has exceeded expectations at the bat. Many of his biggest boosters had a fear for his hitting.

Wright supplanted Maranville at short. What to do with Maranville was a problem. He was shifted to second base and has fitted in perfectly. No doubt Wright has profited greatly from having no abba head as Maranville playing alongside of him.

Moore Stars as Sub
While Moore hasn't enjoyed so strong a spotlight as the other four rookies, his work has been no less meritorious.

When substituting for Third Baseman "Pie" Traynor, Moore played great ball and hit a Rogers Hornsby. In 35 games played he has an average close to .400.

If the Pirates pull the unexpected and nose out the Giants, the major portion of the credit for the win must go to the five rookies, Wright, Cuyler, Yde, Moore and Kremer.

While the veteran stars of the club have performed nobly, it must be conceded the new men have added the strength that has made the Pirates a potential winner.

A base on balls to Furler, his second and Annie Onley of the evening started the Bellevues on the path to victory in the third. Williams set him along on a pretty sacrifice and then the Bellevues had the strength for a lucky triple to right. Purie registering. Buckley counted when Ducky Bradbury lifted a high sacrifice fly to Gleason in center.

After Jenkins, Williams and Buckley had singled, the first of the Bellevues had collected play on an account of darkness and the score favored the even innings. With only one out, the Bellevues had sent three additional runs over the part in the fifth, but these were automatically eliminated by the cancellation of the game.

St. Peter, in the absence of Busta Curtin, performed satisfactorily as umpire on bases.

A foul fly off Daly's bat in the fourth flopped down on Michael Delahanty's straggly bat, damaging it beyond repair. Delahanty was a spectator at the first base stand.

A French hipster smoking set, donated by John Peters, proprietor of Marie's restaurant, was won in a raffle by Jack Donovan.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES

Three $2000 Stakes and One Worth $3000 on Today's Card at Readville

READVILLE, Mass., Aug. 29.—Three $2000 stakes and one worth $3000 to which half mile track trotters of the 2:15 class only are eligible, composed the Grand Circuit program which was scheduled to take place here today.

More of the leading two-year old trotters of the season, including Sam Williams, the Cox entry, and Sumatra, another speedster of Ben White's stable, will appear in the Sunny day, the first event on the program.

Rose Scott, 2:00 1/2, was withdrawn from the time line for 2:05 trotters leaving Tommy Murphy still well represented by Clyde the Great. The pilgrim for three-year old pacers is the innovation on the day's card. Five colt yearling pacers were scheduled to turn for the world.

SHARKEY AND ROJAS MEET AT BOSTON

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight boxer and Romero Rojas, Chilean challenger for Jack Dempsey's crown, meet here tonight.

The winner of the ten round go will be given the chance to meet the best man of the class.

Opinion among local fight fans and sport writer forecasts a victory for Sharkey. He is the favorite, first South American fighter to appear in a Boston ring, through an interpreter last night and he was most optimistic about his chances. A capacity crowd is expected.

Johnny Darcy, New York lightweight, will fight in the semi-final attraction against George Lee of Worcester, hailed as the New England champion of that weight.

NOTRE DAME FACES STIFF GRID TESTS

(By N.E.A. Service)

SOUTH BRND, Ind., Aug. 29.—Speaking of tough football schedules, don't overlook Notre Dame's this fall. Ten games will be played with Princeton, Army, Georgia Tech, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Carnegie Tech, coming on successive Saturdays.

Here are six strong aggregations the Rockne line will meet in a dizzy row. Moreover, four of them will be on hostile ground, Georgia Tech and Nebraska being the lone home contests.

The half dozen, four are inter-sectional brushes which should furnish a pretty direct line on the status of the Indiana contingent at the end of the season.

Year after year Notre Dame plays a maximum number of games and about as hard a hitting as any team in the country tackles. Rockne believes in plenty of competition. He also wants quality. And he gets both.

ANDY JENKINS TO PLAY WITH PRINCETONS

The Centerville Princeton and the Chathamville Princeton Twi League rivals will furnish the amusement at Sillesia park. (North Cambridge) tomorrow afternoon, when they attempt to break the deadlock occasioned by their 3-3 clash on the South common last week. The Princeton, fresh from their Sunday victory over the strong Bellevue club, will have a new star in their lineup against the town boys in the person of Andy Jenkins, former South End and Centerville favorite, who has just returned from a successful campaign in the Canadian League. Jenkins will play an outfield berth for the Princeton, rounding out an exceptionally fast trio with Jimmy Gardner and John Souza. Jenkins is in the best shape of his career and may bring victory to the boys across the bridge.

Mally Poyce will be behind the bat for the locals with either Paulou or Herb Mulino on the rubber. Ray Poyce will cover first base, with Moyal at second. Logrand at third, Moyal at first, and Mulino at pitcher. The Princeton will be in the points for Centerville when the time is called at Sillesia park at 3 bells.

Man o' War's New Fame

(By N.E.A. Service)
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Man o' War's fame as a runner will live for ages. No greater horse was ever seen on the American turf. Three years ago the champion was retired and put in stud. This year his first set of offspring made their debut in competition.

It is seldom that a great thoroughbred proves a great sire. Man o' War seems to be the inevitable exception. Three of his progeny scored recent victories at Saratoga Springs.

Mr. Wheeler will begin a stump tour Labor day with an address on Boston common. In quick succession, he will deliver speeches in at least a dozen other New England cities before invading New York and probably other eastern states.

Senator La Follette also will speak on Labor day, but not to a visible audience, arrangements having been made to have a dozen radio stations broadcast his address. Still of the opinion that he should not launch his active campaign before mid-September, he expects to get under way with a curtain-raiser in New York city.

WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Lowell Playground Team Wins Inter-City Title by Defeating Haverhill

The inter-city baseball championship for 1924, involving representative playground teams from Lowell and Haverhill, was awarded to the local nine on the South common yesterday afternoon when Left Fielder Paul of Lowell crashed out a single to center field that scored Plouffe from second and gave the home team an 8 to 7 victory in the twelfth and final inning of play.

It was a spirited contest all the way through with Haverhill getting the breaks early in the game, and Lowell coming strong at the tape and scoring the tying run in the ninth when all seemed lost. Haverhill was leading by a 5 to 4 margin when Lowell went to the bat in the last half of the ninth when Jack Hays, the local mound artist, scored on Keefe's fourth single of the fray.

The deadlock necessitated extra sessions, and Haverhill entered the tenth frame a dangerous proposition. Two runs were scored before the side was retired and again Lowell was in the rear. By dint of consistent hitting and flashy base-running, however, the score was once more tied, this time at seven all.

Neither side was able to score in the eleventh, and Haverhill was extinguished one-two-three in the final. In the first half of this stanza, local bats got to Pitcher McDaniels and the winning run crossed the plate when Boyle's single was of sufficient length to bring Plouffe across.

The work of the opposing pitchers featured the game. Both had 12 strikeouts to their credit, but the Lowell boys allowed but 16 hits, while McDaniels was being wall-pa for eleven. Plouffe, Pricola and McDaniels conspired for equally cranks. The local boys scored 11 times, against 5 for the down-river men. The visitors were accompanied by Playground Instructor Albert Clarridge. ## AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

It is a smart bill which is being presented at the B. F. Keith theatre this week. Lively are the music and the comedy, and the farce called "Waiting," in which Joseph Stanley plays the leading part, is one round of pleasure. There is no boy just like Stanley on the stage. His humor is original and always to the point. Mary and Ann Clark, in their sketch, are uncommonly good, and Roger Williams, the man from Dixie, is another first class performer. Others on the bill are: the Jack Hughes duo, instrumentalists: Gehan and Garretson, singers, and Jack and Jessie Gibson, cyclists. "Behold This Woman" is the strikingly good picture feature.

RIALTO THEATRE

Florence Vidor is splendid in the role of "Alice Adams" in the picture of the same name which is now playing at the Rialto theatre. It is the Pulitzer prize play of 1923 and is considered to be Booth Tarkington's masterpiece. The action takes place in a typical American village and the characters are all drawn true to life. There are indeed many girls like poor Alice.

Jack Hoxie in "Dead or Alive," a strong western drama, the twelfth round of H. C. Witwer's "Fighting Blood," the second chapter of Emerson Hough's "The Way of a Man," and Fox News are included in the bill.

MERRIMACK SQUARE

A magnificent epic of the early west in James Cruze's latest Paramount production, "The Covered Wagon," which will be the feature attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre, all next week, beginning Sunday. ## AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

It is a smart bill which is being presented at the B. F. Keith theatre this week. Lively are the music and the comedy, and the farce called "Waiting," in which Joseph Stanley plays the leading part, is one round of pleasure. There is no boy just like Stanley on the stage. His humor is original and always to the point. Mary and Ann Clark, in their sketch, are uncommonly good, and Roger Williams, the man from Dixie, is another first class performer. Others on the bill are: the Jack Hughes duo, instrumentalists: Gehan and Garretson, singers, and Jack and Jessie Gibson, cyclists. "Behold This Woman" is the strikingly good picture feature.

RIALTO THEATRE

Florence Vidor is splendid in the role of "Alice Adams" in the picture of the same name which is now playing at the Rialto theatre. It is the Pulitzer prize play of 1923 and is considered to be Booth Tarkington's masterpiece. The action takes place in a typical American village and the characters are all drawn true to life. There are indeed many girls like poor Alice.

Jack Hoxie in "Dead or Alive," a strong western drama, the twelfth round of H. C. Witwer's "Fighting Blood," the second chapter of Emerson Hough's "The Way of a Man," and Fox News are included in the bill.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 11

Instantly one of the Africans clapped his hands and, as if by magic, three more queer looking seats were brought forth from behind a clump of trees. Jack was very much interested and he asked the captain where these men would take them if they got into the seats and took a ride.

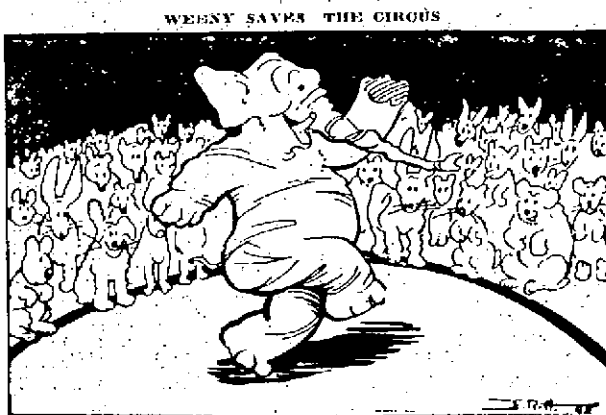

"They are trained guides for explorers," replied the captain. "When we landed here they knew we wanted to go into the jungle, so they brought the seats to us." Jack was satisfied then, so he crawled into one of the seats while two of the African jungle men held it down low for him.

Soon the captain and the two sailors had also crawled into the seats. Then, just as their journey into the jungle was to start, Jack heard a great shout from the ship Betsy Claire. Looking back he saw his dog Flip standing on the railing of the ship. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

THEN HE STARTED TO WALTZ. All the wood folk and meadow folk and barnyard folk, sat down on the grass to see the circus that Weeny, the elephant, and Nancy and Nick, the Twins, and Toby, the dog, and Prince, the pony, were having. They wanted to get enough money to finish their vacation. And, dear, knows, they should have been happy, for everybody in the county nearly was there. And it did look as though they had only come to finish their vacation, but take another one, even when that one was over, with such a crowd 'n' all. Weeny started the acts. First he came in and made a bow, and then he started to waltz. And he waltzed and waltzed and waltzed until he got dizzy. After that he stood on his hind legs and walked around the circus ring holding his trunk in a loop over his head. Everybody clapped at that, and then Weeny made another bow. Next Nancy came out and Weeny lifted her onto his back. The next thing she did was to climb up on his head and nido down his trunk like a toboggan slide. Then Weeny lay down and when he stood up, Nancy was to be seen. But on looking closer, there she was, right under Weeny's body, completely hidden from view. Next Prince the pony came trotting in and his act was to run zig-zag in and out of Weeny's four legs, this way and that, while the elephant stood still. After that Toby came out and jumped on Prince's back and he rode around and around on the pony's back without saddle or bridle.
